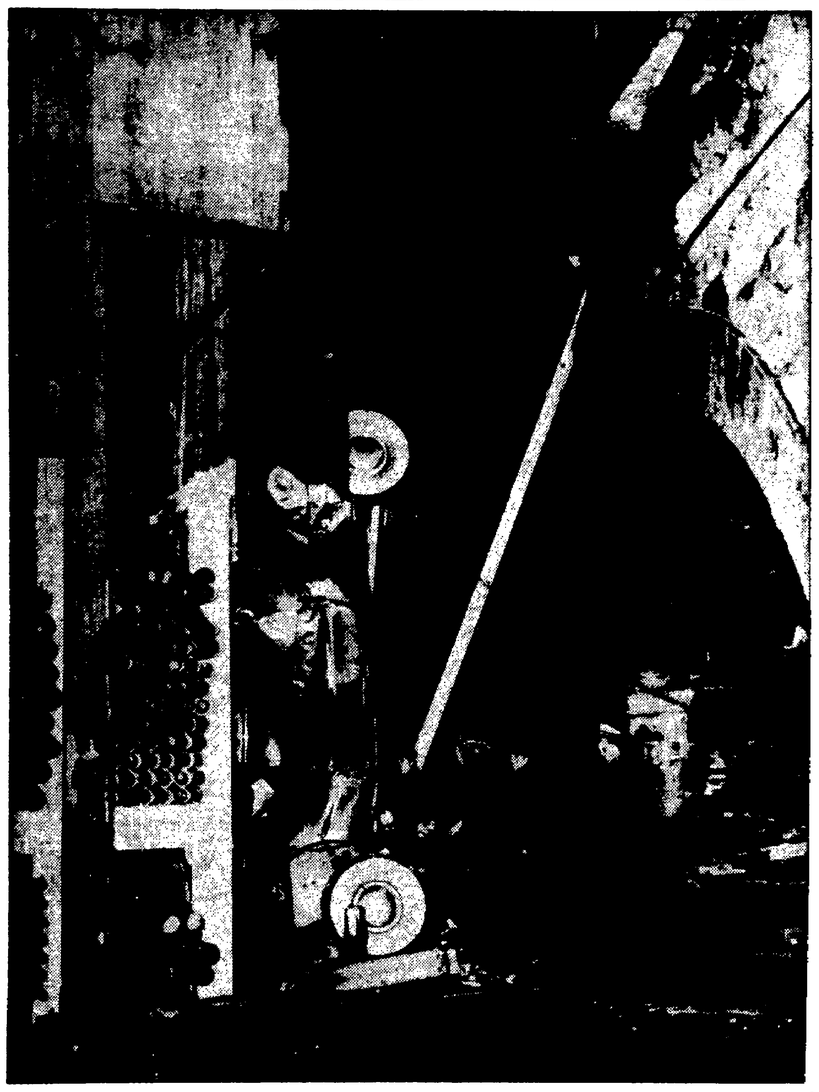
Ike To Leave Labor Strike Voting Details to Congress



CAR TAKES A NOSEDIVE. Icy street conditions accompanying the eastern blizzard are blamed for this 25-foot nosedive of an automobile "parked" nose down against a warehouse in Philadelphia. Six persons were injured, two seriously. Firemen are shown preparing to remove the car, which plunged over the South St. bridge.

6 Die, 4 Hurt In Crash of Air Force Jet

Plane Plunges Into Populated California Residential District

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Shrouded in rain clouds, an Air Force jet fighter plane rocketed into a Signal Hill residential district late yesterday, demolished two homes and exploded, set fire to a third home and damaged a fourth. Six persons died and four were injured, two so seriously they may not recover.

In addition, an elderly man, horrified at what he was, suffered a heart attack and died.

Broke Gas Main

The hurtling plane ripped out telephone lines and broke gas mains that erupted into geysers of flame. Blazing jet fuel cascaded over what an instant before had been a quiet neighborhood in the oil producing area, which is completely surrounded by the city of Long Beach.

The pilot, Maj. Robert A. Blair of Omaha, Neb., was among the dead. A boy perished in the street where he was playing.

"There were flames everywhere, in the houses, spread across the street and shooting from gas mains," said Mrs. Dorothy McCormick, who said she was almost knocked off a chair in her home by the blast.

Returning to Port

The F86 Sabre jet was one of two returning to the Long Beach Municipal Airport from Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., when they were enveloped in dense clouds. Both jets raced out to sea, then swept in under the clouds. One made it to the airport, but Maj. Blair's craft sheared off the top of a fir tree in front of a home for convalescents. This house was not damaged, but next door the home of Mrs. Shirley Roberts was demolished and she and her infant son Douglas were killed.

The plane exploded with this impact and disintegrated into a 200-

$15,000 Blaze Levels Garage

Flames, smoke, and steam are shown here rising from a $15,000 fire at the Frazier Garage on Quarry St. which broke out shortly after 5 p.m. yesterday. The building, all equipment and two trucks in the garage for repair were demolished in the hour-and-a-half-long fire. (Photo by Alfred Witter Jr. of 273 Bellevue Ave.)

President Is Asked About Taft-Hartley

Poll Before or After Walkout Not for Him To Settle, He Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he is leaving up to Congress whether a workers' strike vote should be taken before or after a walkout.

The President declined at his news conference to say whether he regards his proposal for a strike vote as "must" legislation.

Such a vote was among his recommendations he sent Congress Monday in outlining a 14-point program for revising the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act.

Uses General Terms

In his special message, the President phrased his strike-poll idea in general terms. He said that since going on strike and thus losing pay is so important to the individual worker, he should have a chance to "express his choice by secret ballot held under government auspices."

This left it unclear whether the President had in mind a poll taken before a walkout or after the workers were on strike.

Reporters were primed with questions on this uncertainty when Eisenhower met with them.

First off, the President was asked to clarify whether the strike ballot system he proposed was intended to apply before a strike could begin.

Ducks Direct Answer

Eisenhower declined to give a direct answer.

He said in making the recommendation he was trying to establish a principle—that he carefully avoided spelling out exact details because that is the province of Congress.

The President added he would accept anything along this line that looked to be the most practical and feasible under the circumstances.

Eisenhower declined, also to say whether he regards any of his Taft-Hartley proposals as "must" legislation.

He declared he is going to fight for his entire legislative program but he said he is not going to decide at this time which parts of it are the most and the least important.

In practice, most unions poll their members before striking, although there are some exceptions.

Confusion arose when Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) of the Senate Labor Committee introduced legislation to carry out the Eisenhower program—and his bill provided that the government - supervised vote be taken after the strike had begun.

This apparently caught Secre-

Cites Rise in Driving Arrests

Judge Ruzzo To Crack Down On Juvenile Traffic Offenses

A new three-point policy for dealing with juvenile traffic offenders, the largest single group of juvenile delinquents, was outlined yesterday by Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo.

Addressing a luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club, Judge Ruzzo said that his new policy will consist of suspension of driving rights, releasing the names of juvenile offenders for publication, and commitment to appropriate children's institutions in aggravated cases involving personal injuries.

RUZZO OPENED his talk by pointing to the recent increase in juvenile delinquency.

Last year a record of 305 juvenile delinquency cases were heard in Ruzzo's court, topping the 1952 total of 204 and the previous high of 272 in 1942.

Then he pointed out that many people think only of theft, vandalism, gang warfare, truancy and incorrigibility when they hear of juvenile delinquency. He reminded them that they often overlook the significant factor of the traffic offender.

"Much of the increase in juvenile delinquency is directly traceable to the traffic offender," he said.

He elaborated by showing statistics on the increase in traffic violations among juveniles.

One-third of the juvenile delinquency cases filed in his court during 1953 were traffic offenses. In 1950 the figure was only nine per cent. It jumped to 15 per cent in 1951 and doubled to 31 per cent in 1952.

CLASSIFYING LAST year's 305 juvenile offenses into 12 main groups, he pointed out that in none of these groups were there more than 50 offenses, except traffic which had 102.

Ruzzo said insurance companies, parents, courts and law-enforcing agencies have been combating the problem but the rate continues to rise. "Additional measures must be taken," he added.

Judge Ruzzo then swung into his new three-point policy.

"Henceforth driving licenses for juveniles involved in reckless operations may be revoked until age 18," Ruzzo said. He added that in many cases a fine would be coupled with the suspension.

Stressing that point, he questioned the need of so many young people to drive. He said he wondered if it was necessary for

Mercury Dips To Three; More Cold Predicted

A three above zero temperature reading was recorded in Marion County early this morning as the current cold spell continued throughout this section of the country.

Yesterday, the mercury reached a maximum of 22. A year ago, on an unseasonably warm day, the high was 50 and the low 33. A trace of snow fell in Marion late yesterday afternoon.

Increasing cloudiness and not quite as cold has been forecast for tonight, with the low expected to be between 10 and 15. Thursday will be rather cloudy and not as cold, followed by light snow.

State Auditor Rhodes Files For Governor

Nomination Virtually Assured; Rips Lausche Attempt for 5th Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—James A. Rhodes, 44-year-old state auditor and former three-term Columbus mayor, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor.

With the week-old endorsement of the GOP State Central and Executive Committee it appeared Rhodes will have no formidable opposition for the nomination at the May Republican primary.

Rhodes appears certain to slug it out in the fall campaign with Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Seeking his fifth term, Lausche probably will have no opposition in the Democratic primary.

With the obvious expectation he will face Lausche in the November election, Rhodes started the campaign in his announcement of candidacy with the statement:

"The government of Ohio belongs to its people and not to one individual who seeks further perpetuation of power with the possessive instinct of a ruler. The office of governor of the state was not meant to rest in the hands of one man for a fifth term to be used solely and selfishly as a springboard for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1956."

Lausche has been mentioned re-

Exploding Gasoline Fumes Believed Responsible

A fire apparently caused by exploding gasoline fumes destroyed the Frazier Garage and its contents at 274 Quarry St. and caused some $15,000 loss early last night.

The blaze broke out about 5:16 p.m. while gasoline was being drained from the tank of one of two trucks in the garage for repairs. Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt said fumes from the gasoline evidently reached a furnace used to heat the garage causing an explosion which started the fire.

Central and Mark St. station firemen answered the alarm and fought the blaze for an hour and a half before it was extinguished.

Operator of the garage was Oscar N. Frazier of 362 S. Prospect St. The building was owned by the Marion Welding Co. of 276 Quarry St. which is owned by Jack V. Griffith. It was a concrete block building containing some 1,500 square feet of floor space

Two trucks were destroyed in the fire. One was a semi-trailer

Alpine Avalanche Toll Mounts to 86 Dead, 135 Missing

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Thousands of rescue workers struggled today to uncover at least 135 persons still missing under snow and ruins in the avalanche-stricken Alps of west Austria and Switzerland. There and in Bavarian Germany 86 already were listed among the "white dead."

Only minor slides, which caused no damage, were reported during the night, and colder weather brought hope the snow movement was letting up. But a Vienna weather official warned that west Austria's average temperatures still were above normal and there still was danger of more avalanches.

This was the toll so far from the snowslides which began Monday, in the wake of the winter's worst blizzards:

Austria — 62 dead, 131 missing.
Switzerland — 18 dead, 4 missing.
Bavarian Germany — 6 dead.

The center of tragedy was the 12-mile Walser Valley of west Austria, near the Swiss frontier.

Key Witness Surrenders in Reuther Case

Donald Ritchie Turns Self In to Canadian Police After 5 Days

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP)—The five-day hunt for Donald Ritchie, fugitive key witness in the Reuther shooting case, ended early today in nearby Preston. Police said Ritchie walked quietly up to a reporter in a downtown restaurant and disclosed his identity.

Two police from Detroit, where Ritchie eluded a police guard last Friday, were on their way to Preston to pick up both Ritchie and his common-law wife, Betty White.

Told of Plans

The woman had been arrested last night in Preston, about 150 miles northeast of Detroit. She told police Ritchie had planned to surrender after making contact with his attorney.

Ritchie, a 33-year-old Canadian, had implicated himself and four others in the attempted assassination in 1948 of Walter P. Reuther, now CIO president. Police described Ritchie as a "key witness" in the solution of the case. Only one of the four others is still at large.

Constable John Ford of the Ontario provincial police said Ritchie gave himself up to Dennis Harvey, a reporter for the Hamilton Spectator.

Police Summoned

Three Preston police were summoned to the restaurant and took Ritchie into custody at about 3 a.m.

The search for Ritchie had switched to Toronto last night after a man identifying himself as the fugitive telephoned police here from Toronto about 11 p.m. and announced he would surrender if the Kitchener police turned the White woman free.

There was no immediate verification in Kitchener that Ritchie had made such a call. Provincial police said he made no statement after he gave himself up.

Dulles Pledges Opposition for Russian 'Deal'

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles will meet the Russians in Berlin soon, firmly pledged against any deal to divide the world between the rule of Moscow and that of the Western Powers.

There is no plan for a "partnership division of world power with those who suppress freedom," the secretary said last night in an address to the Council of Foreign Relations here.

Reviewing Eisenhower administration work in foreign and security affairs during its first year and taking a quick look at the future, Dulles made these basic points:

Future diplomacy—The United States, Britain and France will negotiate at Berlin for the unification of Germany and the liberation of Austria. The aim is to "advance the cause of human welfare."

The way to a cold war victory—If the free nations devote themselves to promoting freedom, they will effectively demonstrate its advantages to people behind the Iron Curtain, thus offering "our greatest hope" for solution of the Soviet problem. Dulles said there is now, even within Russia, a test of strength between the people and "the powerful rulers."

Funds for Ohio Pike Study Get Board's Okay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board voted unanimously today to release funds for a long delayed survey of a second Ohio turnpike between Cincinnati and Conneaut with a Toledo spur.

On a motion by Rep. J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland), the board voted, 5-0, to make $135,000 available for a feasibility study. The resolution contained a promise of additional funds to complete a detailed engineering survey if the initial study indicated feasibility.

Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (R-Muskingum) said an estimated $975,000 would be necessary for engineering and traffic surveys of the Cincinnati-Conneaut - Toledo turnpike, including the original grant.

McClure and Moorehead stymied release of survey funds until members of the Legislature gave their informal approval last Monday at the opening of a special highway session of the Legislature.

Highway Director S. O. Linzell originally asked for $650,000 last August at the request of the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

He said the money was needed for a complete survey of a proposed 400 million dollar turnpike between Cincinnati and Conneaut With release of funds blocked, Linzell said a feasibility study could be made for $90,000. Later he said a preliminary study of a Toledo

Reds Approve Allied Terms On Korea Talks

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists agreed today to the first step toward resuming talks to set up a Korean peace conference — a meeting of Allied and Red liaison officers tomorrow at Panmunjom.

U. S. envoy Kenneth C. Young said the staff officers will meet to discuss conditions and a date for reopening the preliminary talks broken off Dec. 12 by the United States.

A Communist request Monday to reopen the talks asked only that the liaison officers meet to set a date.

The Allies replied with a note yesterday asking that the staff officers discuss both date and conditions for resuming the conference.

Young kept a Communist answer today secret while it was studied in Washington.

Apparently the Red answer accepted the Allied terms for discussing conditions.

Peiping radio said earlier the Communist liaison officers were prepared to discuss only the date and not conditions for resuming the preliminary talks. Peiping said:

"The only condition required to reopen the discussion is that the Americans come back to the con-

Asks Parity Hike

100 Per Cent Farm Price Plan Urged by McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Republicans with an eye on the November elections talked fondly today of Sen. McCarthy's proposal to set a 100 per cent parity price goal for their new farm program.

The Wisconsin Republican, stepping momentarily out of his role as the Senate's most vocal Communist hunter, appeared as a champion of the farmer with a plan to hike the 75 to 90 per cent flexible price supports suggested by President Eisenhower.

The senator said in an interview he had touched off a heated discussion of the subject at a conference of all Republican senators yesterday because he thinks government supports should not go as low as 75 per cent. They "ought to go higher than 90 per cent, perhaps even above 100 per cent of parity," McCarthy said, adding:

"I have no fight with President Eisenhower."

During the 1952 campaign, Eisenhower said the farmer is entitled to full parity—that is, 100 per cent—"but we're not going to write anything into a fixed law that can't be changed." The Republican platform came out for "a farm program aimed at full parity prices for all farm products in the market place." I did not pledge government supports at that level.

But Too Soon To Tell

Preliminary Atom Talks 'Encouraging,' Ike Feels

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today this country's preliminary atomic talks with Russia are encouraging, but it is too soon to tell whether the Soviets are acting in good faith.

His reference to the atomic talks, which were an outgrowth of his proposal for an international atomic energy pool for peaceful purposes, came at a news conference in which the President also discussed important domestic issues.

On the controversial farm program which he submitted to Congress last Monday, Eisenhower declared he believes it is workable is politically feasible in htis elec- and practicable.

The President also:

1. Said Secretary of State Dulles was only stating a fundamental truth when he declared in a speech last night that the United States has made a basic decision to meet any future Communist aggression by relying primarily on instant massive retaliation.

2. Laughed off an effort to find out whether he intends to seek a second term. His political friends, Eisenhower added, have advised him never to deal with that subject.

3. Expressed confidence that the United States is achieving better

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Tallulah's First Serious TV Role

"Hedda Gabler" is one of the great plays and its title role one of the greatest female characters ever created by Ibsen. Therefore its presentation by the United States Steel Hour with Tallulah Bankhead playing Hedda was an event of some importance and high excitement.

J. CROSBY

Well, there was some high excitement all right, especially in the playing of Tallulah Bankhead, a girl who makes up her own rules of acting, but there were also some severe disappointments. I happened to see the play in the company of a couple of people who had never seen it or read it. The hour-long "Hedda" just left them completely bewildered. They couldn't understand why Hedda wanted to drive Lovborg to suicide and weren't even very clear why she killed herself.

I DON'T KNOW that this is anyone's fault. The blame, I think, lies in Ibsen's great craftsmanship. "Hedda Gabler" is one of the most magnificently constructed plays of all time, a model that every young dramatist should study. Ibsen in his later plays, of which this is one of the finest, never allowed himself the luxury of a single line of dialogue that didn't hew strictly to the business at hand, no matter how entertaining. This austerity of purpose puts a seal of absolute finality on the plays as they are written. It is almost impossible to cut them, certainly not to an hour, without doing grave damage to the playwright's intentions.

Hedda, one of the stage's first modern women—this was written in 1890—is a torrential bundle of ego, selfishness nd ferocity, a little too torrential for the people of her day who complained that women simply weren't like that. Today, she seems a little more plausible, though not much more endearing.

TO PLAY SUCH A tumult of neurotic and destructive passions, you need someone like Tallulah, who is not afraid to shout the house down. And she did all right, the celebrated baritone voice rumbling and spitting like a volcano. Of course, this same voice has been in the employ of comedy on radio and television for some years now and, even in the most intense and tragic of her "Hedda Gabler" scenes, there were faint, mocking overtones of the All Star Review. That's the trouble with making gags about a personality like Tallulah. After a while, the gags get to be part of her personality.

As Judge Brack, the wily old lecher who would like to have Hedda for is own, Luther Adler gave a quite different type of performance, measured, skillful, and sharply outlined, all the while Tallulah was wriggling her hips and her shoulders and waving her fan. It was quite a potpourri of acting styles on display.

All things considered, despite a generally excellent production, I don't think that this presentation made many new Ibsen fans and it may have driven a few away. Ibsen is going to be a tough nut to crack. Come to think of it, I don't think I've ever seen an Ibsen play on television that I was satisfied with. There was an attempt a couple seasons back to do "Peer Gynt" in installments with Burgess Meredith in the lead. It was pretty bad.

TURNING TO ANOTHER and happier effort of lofty aspiration, the Canadian Broadcasting Company last summer substituted Homer's "Odyssey" for an evening soap opera called "John and Judy." The "Odyssey," which might be described as the oldest of all soap operas, was done in fifteen thirty-minute installments concentrating on the search of Telemachus for his father and the counterplot of Penelope's suitors.

Hit of the piece was an Ottawa actress named Mary Douglas who played the goddess Athena and who won admiration for her eloquence in classical roles and her flawless diction. Ulysses was played by a twenty-four-year old Toronto actor named John Colicos, who is a graduate of London's Old Vic. There was enough interest in the Homer series to enable CBC to plan some more classics. One reason for the widespread interest is that many of the CBC listeners in remote areas are self-taught and have a deep thirst for an education they never had.

4-H Advisers Hear Stock Discussions

Marion County 4-H club agricultural advisors gathered yesterday at the YMCA for a leader training conference at which four men talked on swine, dairy, soils and field crops.

Speakers at the one-day conference were James Smoot of the Marion Producers Livestock Cooperative, whose subject was swine; Richard Brooks, Marion County dairyman, whose subject was dairy; W. L. Williams, Marion County soil conservationist, whose subject was soils; and Arthur Smith, Marion County agricultural agent, whose subject was field crops.

The four men were discussion leaders at four separate sessions during the day, beginning at 10 a.m. with another that morning an hour later and two in the afternoon.

Sponsored by the Marion County 4-H Advisory Council, the one-day conference replaced the series of evening meetings which were held in previous years. Nine 4-H agricultural advisors attended the discussions.

Communist Cell Took Taft-Hartley Name, Jury Hears

CINCINNATI (AP)—A cell of Dayton Communists who did not pay party dues was ironically described as the "Taft-Hartley" group during a federal perjury trial yesterday.

E. Melvin Hupman of Dayton is charged with perjury for swearing he was not a Communist in an affidavit filed with the National Labor Relations Board. He was a local officer of the independent United Electrical Workers Union.

Arthur Strunk, a government witness in U.S. District Court, testified five men were instructed by the party leader in Ohio to sign non-Communist affidavits. He identified the leader as Martin Chauney of Cleveland.

The affidavit signers were told, Strunk said, not to attend party meetings nor pay dues. They were, however, to donate money every month and meet as an individual group.

The group was to be known as the "Taft-Harley," he recalled.

Under the federal labor law, named for its sponsors in the House and Senate, all union officials must sign non-Communist affidavits in order for the union to be recognized by the NLRB. One of the law's purposes was to prevent Communists from controlling labor organizations.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads headed a rally in the stock market today that sent prices higher for the second straight session.

Rails displayed some of the better gains, going to around a point at the outside. No section of the market was neglected.

Trading interest quickened when prices firmed. That kept volume at a pace well ahead of yesterday's 1¼ million shares.

Favorites following the railroads were the oils, steels and chemicals. Also higher were the motors, aircrafts, radio-televisions, coppers, air lines, movies, building materials, and utilities.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, Southern Railway, Sinclair Oil, Pan American World Airways, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco, U.S. Steel, General Motors and United Aircraft.

Galion Board Plans Long-Range Look At School Program

GALION — The incorporation of additional "patriotic education" in the Galion public schools, and the consideration of adopting a "loyalty oath" for all employes at present as well as any new employes coming into the system, were part of a lengthy discussion by the Galion Board of Education Monday night.

In discussing policies of the board, it was pointed out that highest qualifications of all employes of the school must be demanded as well as a high degree of ability and well-rounded personality. Because of this, the board expects in the very near future to review all contracts, qualifications, and salaries of those present in the school system, it was stated by Grant West, president of the board. He said that it was felt by the board that some consideration may well be given to the establishment of a "teacher screening committee" which would review the applications of all potential teachers for the Galion schools, involve personal interviews, and inquiring into the background of each applicant.

West's release to the press stated that the board expects to consider the advisability of establishing a textbook and classroom material committee. This committee would have the responsibility of examining all existing textbooks and material and handle any suggestions or complaints that might be forthcoming from any source. He said recommendations would then be made to the school administrators, and referred to the board for action. The board expects to work closely with school authorities on curriculum expansions, curtailments, and changes.

It was explained that the board is deeply concerned with adequate school facilities and the maintenance of the facilities presently in existence. A policy of making repairs and maintenance on a current basis was discussed by the board. The news release stated that it was specifically pointed out that the balance of $59,307.57 as of Dec. 31, 1953, unused from tax resources for 1953, could have been used wisely in certain repairs and maintenance in several places and especially in the senior high school.

SINKING SENSATION

NOME, ALASKA (UP) — Uncle Sam is going to have to dig in his pockets for some hard cash if the federal building here is going to be saved. The building was constructed on what was believed to be permanently frozen earth. But the ground has thawed and the building is in danger of cracking up and sinking.

Police Report Two Traffic Accidents

Two driverless automobiles were involved in one of two minor, no-injury traffic accidents reported today by city police. For the second day in a row, the state highway patrol and the Marion County sheriff's office reported no accidents on county highways.

A car owned by Nellie Hypes of 318 Park St. coasted backwards out of a driveway beside the house and struck a car parked across the street owned by Roy Heiser of 225 E. Farming St. at 10:25 p.m. yesterday. Only damage was to Heiser's car.

Other accident in the city occurred when a truck driven by Parker A. Wheeler, 33, of Columbus skidded under railroad crossing gates on Bellefontaine Ave. after they started to lower. The gate came down, struck the rear of the truck and broke, police said. No damage was reported to the truck. The accident occurred at 8:17 a.m. yesterday.

INDICTED IN SHOOTING

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—George H. Varner, 47, of Columbus, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday on a charge of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Lawrence L. Holland Jr., 21, of Columbus Dec. 5. Police say Varner shot Holland when Holland drove onto the parking lot where Varner was employed as a night watchman.

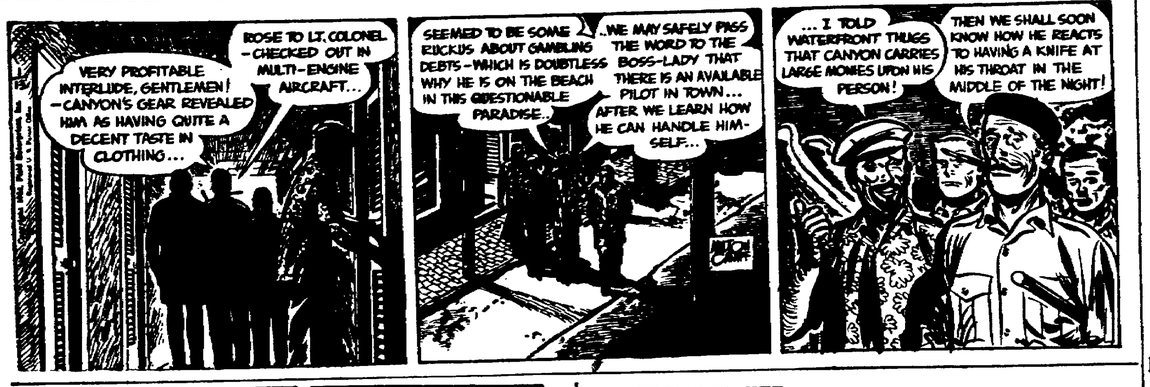
STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff



VERY PROFITABLE INTERLUDE, GENTLEMEN! - CANYON'S GEAR REVEALED HIM AS HAVING QUITE A DECENT TASTE IN CLOTHING...
ROSE TO LT. COLONEL - CHECKED OUT IN MULTI-ENGINE AIRCRAFT...
SEEMED TO BE SOME RICKUS ABOUT GAMBLING DEBTS - WHICH IS DOUBTLESS WHY HE IS ON THE BEACH IN THIS QUESTIONABLE PARADISE...
...WE MAY SAFELY PASS THE WORD TO THE BOSS-LADY THAT THERE IS AN AVAILABLE PILOT IN TOWN... AFTER WE LEARN HOW HE CAN HANDLE HIMSELF...
... I TOLD WATERFRONT THUGS THAT CANYON CARRIES LARGE MONIES UPON HIS PERSON!
THEN WE SHALL SOON KNOW HOW HE REACTS TO HAVING A KNIFE AT HIS THROAT IN THE MIDDLE OF THE NIGHT!

Florida Tourists Have No Effect on Wildcats

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP)—The trek of tourists to Florida apparently hasn't resulted in a noticeable decrease in numbers among one of the state's original inhabitants, the bobcat.

Reuel H. Pitts killed a big wildcat recently in his yard just a short distance from busy U. S. Highway 1. A few days earlier, Howard Kearney and Jerome Peale bagged two wildcats, one of them weighing 40 pounds, in the Tampa Bay area on the Gulf coast.

COIN TURNS UP

HEBRON, Neb. (UP) — Orville Baldwin, an attorney, dropped the 50-cent piece in 1931 while entering the Thayer County courthouse. It rolled into a crack and dropped behind some stone steps. Workmen repaired the storm damaged building recently and Baldwin got his 50-cent piece back.

Mercury Nears Record Lows

Frigid Weather Grips Midwest, East

By The Associated Press

Skies cleared and winds diminished in the storm-swept Northeast section of the country today but colder weather was the immediate outlook.

The frigid weather in the snow covered Northeast area extended westward to the Rockies and dipped into the South. It was below freezing as far south as southern Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi.

New England reported the season's coldest weather. Temperatures ranged from the teens to 25 degrees below zero in northern Maine. Snow in the area during the storm since Sunday ranged from 4 to 15 inches, with southeastern Massachusetts and northern Maine getting the heaviest amounts.

The storm in the Northeast, the worst in five years, was blamed for at least 76 deaths.

It was biting cold in sections of the Midwest again today. Temperatures, however, moderated in northern Minnesota, where it was around 40 degrees below zero Tuesday. It was -22 in Eau Claire, Wis., today and in Duluth, Minn., where yesterday's top reading was 6 below.

But at International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border, it was a comparative mild 7 below zero today compared to 39 degrees below yesterday.

Temperatures moderated in the eastern Dakotas.

In New York state temperatures were predicted to range from 5 above to 10 below. It was 14 in New York City early today with continued cold in prospect today and tonight. More snow also was forecast in the western sections Friday.

The 11 above at Newark, N. J., was a record low for Jan. 13.

There were some mild spots in the country. It was 64 above this morning in Brownsville, Tex., and the fairly warm weather prevailed over southern Texas and along the Gulf Coast.

In the West, 6 inches of fresh snow fell at Las Vegas, Nev., while light snow fell over the southern Rockies and the Southern Plateau region and northeastward across the plains to the eastern Dakotas.

In the Far West, California was shaken yesterday by an earthquake which jolted cities from the Mexican border to Sacramento, 500 miles north. No injuries were reported but electric wires were snapped and plaster shattered in several buildings.

Rain, snow and hail also hit areas in California yesterday.

Transportation was back to near normal in major Eastern cities hit by the snow storm. New York City's snowfall of 10 inches was the heaviest in five years. Boston was hit by a fall measuring nearly 1 foot while in Caribou, Me., the fresh snow measured 15 inches.

Other big cities like Philadelphia, Boston and Washington also were hit by the storm. Pennsylvania reported four additional deaths today for a total of 20 attributed to the storm. New Jersey reported 19; New York state 10; Massachusetts 9; Connecticut 8; Washington, D. C., area 4, and Rhode Island and Maryland, 3 each.

New City Hall, Reservoir for Bucyrus Seen

BUCYRUS — Frank P. Sitler, who began his third term as mayor of Bucyrus this month, has submitted to city Council three proposals for drastic city improvements, Council President Robert E. Caldwell reported today.

The mayor has proposed the building of a new water reservoir and the submission of bond issues for erection of a new city hall and the purchase of an aerial ladder truck for the fire department.

Council has taken the proposals under study until specific proposals for the projects are presented by city officials, Caldwell pointed out.

Regarding construction of a new reservoir, the mayor has told councilmen that a new water sewage facility of either the "upground" or "natural flow" design is badly needed to augment the present water supply. The cost would be financed by the sale of revenue bonds.

Sitler, a Republican and a real estate agency owner, urged that a bond issue for a new city hall be submitted to voters after a suitable location was found and the approximate cost of the project determined. He also suggested that a bond issue be floated for the purchase of the ladder truck. Fire Chief Ralph Mead estimated its cost at about $30,000. City Auditor E. C. Oppenlander said the city might be able to buy the fire truck within the 10-mill limitation without the issue being put on the ballot. He said the city's general fund debt is only $40,000, a comparatively low figure.

Increase Noted In Output of Milk in County

Top Herds and Cows Listed in Report of Agricultural Service

Milk and butterfat production in Marion County increased last month, the Marion County Agricultural Extension Service reported today.

Partly responsible for the gain was an increase in the number of cows coming into production.

Cows under Dairy Herd Improvement and Official Test averaged 992 pounds of milk and 38 pounds of butterfat per cow while cows under Owner-Sampler test averaged 854 pounds of milk and 33.2 pounds of butterfat per cow.

Of the 582 cows from 29 herds on DHI test during the month, a total of 256 produced 40 pounds or more of butterfat. A total of 307 cows from 19 herds took part in Owner-Sampler testing, with 102 of the cows producing 40 pounds or more of butterfat.

Cusick Herd Tops

A herd of 24 cows owned by Richard Cusick averaged 1,508 pounds of milk and 55.8 pounds of butterfat to top the list of cows on DHI test. He had 17 cows which produced 40 or more pounds of butterfat.

Other high testing herds were those of William Earl, 20 cows, averaging 1,283 pounds of milk and 50.8 pounds of butterfat; Mrs. Ruth Rowland, 4 cows, 998 pounds of milk, 50.7 pounds of buterfat; Paul Lawrence and Sons, 34 cows, 1,198 and 45.2; Marlow Zachman, 24 cows, 1,265 and 44.5; Richard Lawrence, 26 cows, 1,192 and 44.4; Gomer Johnson and Son, 25 cows, 1,259 and 44.1; W. R. Brooks, 28 cows, 1,207 and 43; R. W. Zieg, 22 cows, 915 pounds and 42.1; and James Cusick, 24 cows, 1,074 and 41.3.

Under Owner-Sampler testing, a herd of 18 cows owned by Alfred Laucher averaged 1,307 pounds of milk and 45.2 pounds of butterfat.

Other leading cows

A six-year-old Holstein owned by W. R. Brooks completed a 305-day lactation period with a record of 15,815 pounds of milk and 579.7 pounds of buttefat.

Others high-testing cows were a five-year-old Holstein owned by Richard E. Lawrence which produced 17,944 pounds of milk and 561.8 pounds of butterfat during a 275-day period; a five-year-old Holstein owned by Z. C. Kline which produced 17,146 pounds of milk and 541.5 pounds of butterfat in 273 days; a seven-year-old Holstein owned by Harold Seiter and Francis Fairchild which produced 15,351 pounds of milk and 533.9 pounds of butterfat in 292 days; and a six-year-old Holstein owned by the same two persons which produced 14,791 pounds of milk and 529 pounds of butterfat in 35 days.

Nearly all dairymen in the county reported adequate supplies of hay and grain, the report stated, and dairymen said there appeared to be no feed shortage in the area.

Birthdays To Be Paid Holidays in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Birthdays will be extra special in the future for 4,000 Chicago electrical workers.

They will get the day off from work with full pay.

Michael F. Darling, president of Local 1031, AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, said four Chicago area plants with which his union has contracts have agreed to that special benefit.

"A birthday is a big event in everyone's life. It should be a holiday—with pay," Darling said.

2 YOUTHS INDICTED

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Two youths were indicted yesterday for first-degree murder by the grand jury. Accused of killing Herschel L. Sorrell, 31, of Middletown, Nov. 21 during a robbery were Harold L. Burkhardt, 18, of Rt. 3, Camden, and Richard Eugene Noland, 22, of Middletown.

Jail Sentence Halts Denver to St. Louis Trip by Horseback

DENVER (AP) — A stay in the nearby Golden, Colo., jail has caused Ralph E. Hume to postpone a trip by horseback from Denver to St. Louis.

The 38-year-old steelworker had planned to leave here yesterday astride his Arabian mare Blue. But Monday he was given a 90 day jail sentence in the theft of an electric saw last Aug. 6.

Mrs. Hume and their son Robert, 12, left in December to stay temporarily with relatives in Chesterfield, Mo., just outside St. Louis.

Hume planned to join them there with the help of Blue. He figured the cost of shipping her back by truck would be too expensive.

The Denver Chamber of Commerce had arranged a big sendoff for Hume yesterday morning. But the sendoff party was left holding the bag.

Hume said he plans to proceed with the trip "the day they let me out."

Middle of the Road

Before the political cleavages which ultimately will divide Congress and the country in this election year go any further, Democrats, Republicans and mugwumps all can acknowledge something about President Eisenhower's position which may be harder to acknowledge next November.

From the presidential point of view there is no proper place for Eisenhower to be except where he is obviously trying to be—right in the middle of the road.

He was not elected in 1952 because he was a Republican, though he had chosen to run as a Republican rather than a Democrat after friends in both parties had told him they would like to have him as their party's nominee.

He can administer his office as a Republican insofar as appointments are concerned. But he can administer it in sofar as national policy is concerned only by appealing to moderates on both sides of the aisle in Congress.

The same kind of coalition which formed a loyal opposition during the Truman and Roosevelt administration now must form the core of support for President Eisenhower. Without coalition support, he would have nothing ahead of him until January, 1957, but the same frustration which plagued his predecessor.

Though Mr. Truman always had a nominal Democratic majority, except in the 80th Congress, he never had an actual majority for his legislative programs because he never could command his party's votes.

The late Sen. Taft on the other hand, usually was able to command a coalition majority agaist President Truman on a fundamental issue.

President Eisenhower must administer his office as a coalition leader unless the Republican party can elect more members of Congress next November than it elected in 1952.

This is the No. 1 reality in President Eisenhower's position. Even if he wanted to be an extremist, which would be contrary to his lifetime habit, he still would be the prisoner of his party's lack of a voting majority in Congress.

Either he must work with coalition support for a middle-of-the-road program or risk becoming as impotent as Mr. Truman became after he let himself become the symbol of one group of extremists in the Democratic party.

Age of Discretion

So many things which don't belong in the argument are dragged in when the legal voting age is discussed that the main point is always forgotten.

The main point is that the 48 states always have decided what the voting age should be and now is being proposed that the federal government should do it instead. By mutual agreement, the voting age in the states has been 21 years, except for Georgia, which reduced it to 18 years in 1943.

No one can say when a citizen of the United States reaches the age of discretion in politics; some citizens never reach it; many don't even try.

If Congress hadn't chosen 18 years as the lower end of the draft-age bracket in 1942 and had chosen 17 or 19, one of these might have been the proposed voting age instead of 18 — as now proposed by the Eisenhower administration.

There is only one thing that needs to be decided about its proposal. That is whether or not the federal government should be permitted to invade a field of legislation where it never has been permitted before. It was decided in 1787 by the founding fathers to let the states handle such matters. The decision never has been set aside.

In 1787, as now, the deepest misgiving about bestowing the franchise on Americans had its source in doubts about their intelligence, not their age.

Non-Statistical Evidence

Winters aren't what they used to be — and this is no longer a personal opinion. Meteorologists have the statistics to prove that winters are milder than they were as lately as a third of a century ago.

This mildness is part of a new pattern of weather emerging from weather records. It is likely that by 2000, or perhaps a decade or two before the turn of another century, the dread of winter will have passed from the minds of millions who now flee to Florida and other points south to escape it.

There is one piece of non-statistical evidence about a change in winter which looks large at this time of the year in the minds of all of us old enough to remember how we used to keep cool with Coolidge. It concerns bobsleds.

On each of the four axles of farm wagons, farmers used to substitute sled runners for wheels. The result was a bobsled.

Bobsleds were used by farmers for long periods in wintertime. Small boys used to ask for permission to ride on the "bobs" — and used to do a good deal of riding without permission. The wagon beds were filled with straw for warmth. There used to be bobsled parties; they were a fine way to get acquainted.

Proof that winter is losing its zip: Except for rare exceptions, there isn't enough snow any more to take a bobsled a country mile more than two days in a row throughout an entire winter.

Constructive Message

By David Lawrence

Compulsory Unionization Only Flaw in Proposals

President Eisenhower's message setting forth his proposals for the amendment of the Taft-Hartley Act is on the whole a constructive contribution to a perennial controversy.

Basically, the President feels that the framework of the present law is sound. His thesis is that the Wagner Act provisions still in the law safeguarded collective bargaining and that it required in addition the Taft-Hartley Act to safeguard the employe from abuses of power.

The area in which Eisenhower proposes legislative changes is not confined either to unions or management alone. He has come forward with remedies for inquitable situations that have arisen over the interpretation of present law.

After all, it is not the explicit phrases of the law but what the members of the National Labor Relations Board and subsequently the courts say they mean which causes the bitterness and the intensive effort to secure amendments from Congress.

MOST OF THE changes being recommended are technical in nature and are far more significant to lawyers for unions and management than they are to the general public.

Yet there are some new suggestions made by the President which will attract widespread attention. The injunctive process in the courts should not, Eisenhower thinks, be started without some effort at special mediation.

Likewise, the much-disputed "secondary boycott," he says, should not be enjoined in the courts automatically but the Department of Justice should have discretion and not be obliged to intervene. This, too, gives time for the law of reason to work.

Definitions of what are or are not "secondary boycotts" would be clarified if the President's proposals are adopted by Congress. He also would cure a technical weakness in the present law whereby workers out on strike might lose their right to vote for a bargaining representative.

This is a rare occurrence and has been much exaggerated as "union busting," but it is a defect which can be and, of course, should be cured.

SOME AMBIGUITY has developed in the decision as to whether either side to a labor-management contract may reopen it at will under present law. The proposal now is to specify by law that a contract lasts for its duration and can be reopened only if the contract itself specifically authorizes a reopening.

The question of responsibility for damage suits is also dealt with. The theory that a union can be sued for acts of its members has been a constant cause for controversy. The President says the normal "rules of agency" under the common law should be applied. Then a person directly authorized to carry out a particular act could be held liable, along with he union. The same applies to management.

The President thinks that a secret ballot should be conducted by a governmental agency to determine whether workers want to go out on strike.

The difficulty with this is that, if the leaders urge the men to vote for the calling of a strike as a piece of maneuvering to impress management in a negotiation — that is, as a psychological act — the workers will vote for it anyway.

Sen. Smith, chairman of the Labor Committee, wants to have a secret vote taken also after the men are out on strike a certain length of time to see if they want to go back. Both proposals are designed to give the worker freedom of choice without coercion.

THERE HAS BEEN a conflict on some labor questions between state and federal law. Lately a decision by the Supreme Court of the United States has brought even more confusion.

The proposed amendment would make clear that the states still may enjoin picketing or disorders involved in strikes if they so provide in their laws. Then the state authority would not be set aside through the National Labor Relations Board or the federal courts.

Unions originally wanted the federal government not to exercise any police power but to leave it all to the states. Today some unions don't want either the states or the federal government to exercise any police power in connection with physical combat arising over strikes.

Some of the Eisenhower amendments will be approved by the unions and others will be vehemently opposed. There's one amendment offered by Eisenhower which would sanction compulsory unionization in seven days after employment in the construction, amusement and maritime industries on the ground that they have "unique problems."

The principle of compulsion, however, is anti-liberal at all times.

The price of a job should not be "thought control."

Men conscientiously opposed to membership in trade unions in free America should not be compelled to join an organization they do not want to join. With that exception, the Eisenhower message is a forward-looking document in labor-management relations.

Too Much Comfort

By TRUMAN TWILL

Never has there been a warmer jacket than the ditty Santa Claus brought me last Christmas — with built-in morale for good measure.

The jacket is too comfortable for my own good. It embodies a fallacy recently mentioned by a writer in a national magazine who said there is such a thing as making a soldier too comfortable for his own good where cold-weather fighting is concerned.

He referred to the success of the Russian army in clothing its men so they survivie sub-zero temperatures and still have plenty of fight left in them. In the event the United States ever fights a war under the same tough conditions, it will have to match the Russians in this respect.

Their secret is to keep the soldiers warm enough so they can fight but not warm enough so they won't want to keep moving. There is just as much danger in being too comfortable as there is in not being comfortable enough.

In other words, the firewood that didn't get sawed up at our house when the head sawyer couldn't stay warm enough to work outside in January is not getting sawed up now because the head sawyer is too comfortable to keep moving.

Men need to be a little bit uncomfortable. They need to be a touch hungry. They need to be a shade poor, a bit uncertain, a trifle anxious.

When things are made too easy for them they go to seed. They start to go back to the shirt sleeves which they thought they had put behind them forever when they put on airs and began to manicure their nails.

They begin to think they are entitled to things which must be won anew by each new generation or no cigar.

They get peculiar ideas about starting at the top so they won't waste time working their way up from the bottom.

They get preoccupied with schemes for staying alive without contributing anything to the kitty.

They start to get fresh with Santa Claus instead of confining themselves to humility and gratitude.

They quit giving things the old college try, that extra oomph, the last full measure of devotion. They goof off, waste time admiring the landscape instead of their handiwork and become clock watchers.

They get skittish about perspiration and start babbling about inspiration.

They learn to keep track of the progress of the clock instead of the progress of their labor.

They become rotten-spoiled and worthless, all because someone was too good to them for their own good.

And if this isn't the longest excuse ever contrived for not sawing up firewood, it will have to do until a longer ones comes to mind.

That old jacket was short in the sleeves, bob-tailed, ragged and nothing to look at, but it was tops for productivity because its wearer had to keep moving.

Voting Duty Taken Too Lightly

By Raymond Moley

The President's proposal to lower the voting age to 18 got a good many headlines, but it apparently failed to excite the congressmen who were listening to the message.

Perhaps most of those gentlemen and ladies were thinking about how they had enough to worry about this fall, what with all the votes above 21 that they must entice. They are not eager to enlarge the territory of their campaigning.

A rough estimate of the number who would be newly eligible under the change is about all that the census figures permit, and that is 6,000,000.

By the 1960's, however, the relative proportion will be much larger because of the fact that the second World War babies will be arriving at what the President believes to be political maturity.

THE INCREASE in eligible voters now by such a change would be something like six per cent. That percentage will rise to ten or more in a decade or two.

While we are on this matter of percentage and without wishing to prejudice the issue of responsibility, the "World Almanac" indicates that, while at this time these people within the 18-20 inclusive range would constitute only six per cent of the eligible voters, they aggregate nine per cent of the drivers involved in fatal motor vehicle accidents.

A lot of other standards might have to be revised. Or would they?

For example, in 41 states it is necessary for men, or shall we say boys, to be 21 to get married without the consent of parents.

Girls, or shall we say women, are legislatively regarded as more responsible in matters of marriage, for in 39 states they can marry, without consent of parents, at 18.

In Minnesota, the figure for boys is 18; for girls, 16.

THERE ARE a number of other statutory provisions which use the traditional age of 21 as a borderline. Thousands of wills are drawn with 21 as the age at which people are to be allowed to have their inheritance.

It can hardly be said that the fact that boys of 18 can be drafted and exposed to the danger of death is sufficient reason for changing the voting age.

If I accurately remember the testimony of the military men who argued for lowering the draft age, the reason was that boys of that age were proven to be competent soldiers.

They are, so the generals and admirals say, easy to train. That was apparently decided on the basis of their capacity to perform a specific duty or office in their country's service.

Voting is also an office. It is not a reward or a right. The voter performs a specific function in the process of government, just as a justice of the peace, a sheriff, or a dog-pound keeper performs a statutory office.

When we fix the qualifications for an office we consider the probability of faithful fulfillment of the duties of that office. We should do that when we extend the age of voting.

I was never impressed by the claims of women before the coming of women's suffrage that they had a right to vote. I favored their admission because I believed they were as competent as men.

WE HAVE no way of judging the wisdom of voting relative to age groups. How people vote is a matter of opinion.

Whether they vote is a matter of fact. On that we have a few figures which cast no luster on the present sense of responsibility of 20-year-olds.

In 1952, "McCall's" magazine published the results of a poll of first voters on the question whether they intended to vote in that presidential year. Of the men, 57.4 per cent said yes, 31.1 per cent said no, and 11.5 per cent didn't know. Of the women, the three corresponding figures were 39.3, 29.2, and 31.5.

This means in all probability that considerably less than the "yes" figures actually voted. For intentions do not always materialize.

The outstanding scandal in American life is the immense percentage of eligible nonvoters. Even in presidential elections only about 55 per cent of eligibles vote. In other elections the percentage is considerably less than one-half.

There is no reason to believe that this situation would be improved by admitting more young eligibles.

A Month of Provocation

By MARK DANA

The year has now progressed to an annually familiar point. New Year's resolutions, first a great inspiration, presently a nuisance, have mostly been buried with no headstones.

The mid-point of winter is passing and one may speak of spring without thought touched in the head. In a relatively few more days, we'll have St. Valentine's Day. Lincoln's birthday, Washington's very own Feb. 22, and then rushing around the corner with out-stretched palm will be March 15 or National Tax Mendacity Day.

Meanwhile, of course, we have some leisure for reading neglected books, particularly in bad weather; only we don't. We can sigh over fuel bills, the payment for the 1954 license tag for the old bus, and how soon the Democrats or Republicans will send the country to the bow-wows.

This January is an odd month; it's dated as the month for starting things including good habits, but we surmise that February will be oh so much better, and when that time comes we'll remind ourselves it's too short a month to get much done, and March is much more feasible.

December has it all over January for laudable resolves; we can always say "next year" with our hearts crossed, but here it is next year, and pretty well chewed into at that, and old habits are as comfortable as old slippers. Why change?

True, the 1954 models of practically everything are screaming at us. We are challenged to resist resistors, and beguiled into automatic hydromatic gears of technocracy which disdain anything that was perfectly good before we tore off that fateful December calendar leaf.

Maybe we shouldn't have done that. Perhaps by just coasting along, paying no mind to anybody and wearing dark glasses we might have passed up mixed up January entirely and on Feb. 1 sneaked two leaves from the pad hanging on the wall. Still and all, those were mighty nice resolutions while they lasted.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Lack of finances and noise of the Bellefontaine & Indiana Railroad which had been constructed along what is now Mill St. were responsible for the abandonment of the Marion Academy established in 1840. In February 1851 the trustee of the institution took steps to sell the property and advertised a sale for March 5, 1851 at the door of the courthouse. Protracted litigation over the sale ended in the Supreme Court and finally the property was sold at sheriff's sale Aug. 19, 1954 to the Board of Education.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Letter for the Hospitalized

(To a friend suffering from nervous tension and ordered to relax.)

Dear Bill: I hope you are coming along fast. You have been working too hard and worrying too much. Take it easy.

(I do not think the storm did too much damage to your house last night. The porch looks like it could be swept up and reassembled again. Did you leave a light on in the kitchen? I am just asking because I looked across the street and noticed it and there have been burglaries in the neighborhood.)

As I was saying you will be out soon if you just relax and do not let anything bother you.

(I hope you have not heard about the report your company has been taken over in a big merger and that a shakeup is possible. There is an outside chance it will not affect you.)

Like your doctor has told you, complete relaxation is all you need. You have got to get your mind off anything that could cause you any nervous strain or anything like that. I hope you will realize this.

(The telephone just rang and interrupted me. It was just a neighbor who wanted to know if there was anything in the story your wife had eloped late yesterday with the milkman. I told her I did not know. There is no use getting neighbors all worked up over such things.

By the way, Bill, am I right in assuming you did not leave a fire burning in the fireplace? Then the smoke pouring out from the windows of your house must be from something else.)

I do hope you will relax and make up your mind you have to get away from all cares and and responsibilities in order to get back into shape. There is nothing to it if you obey the doctor's orders and let nothing bother you, especially at the office.

It was the tension of business cares that wore you down, Bill. Forget them.

(Do you know anybody named Willocks? I hear he has taken over your job. Incidentally, Fred Otis called me up and wanted to to remind you about that promise to get him those deep-freezes wholesale. Maybe you could phone the office and fix it up as he seemed in a hurry.

(I saw a car that looked like yours in a ditch this morning where thieves, who had stolen it from some garage, — had abandoned it. It might not have been yours but if you will send me your license number I will check for you. I hope you have insurance.)

I know just how you feel, because I was laid up with a nervous breakdown once and rest was of the greatest importance. You have just got to blot the outside world from your mind.

(Somebody must have left a couple of windows open in your living room. I looked in and saw a stray cat had kittens on the sofa. A man called at my house by mistake and left some papers for you. He said he was a sheriff. Your wife did not elope with the milkman. It was the radio repairman.)

Well, cheerio, Bill, and I join all your friends in hoping you will be your old self in a few days after your complete respite from worry.

This will have to be all except to say that a couple of surveyors are on your property and I hear the new through - highway is to run through it. I will drop in on you soon to cheer you up in person. Love, Chidsey.

Ethics are back in the news. Dictionaries are taking the worst beating in years in political circles.

While people in general were in favor of ethics, few were getting hurt in their observance, and it remained for Gov. Dewey of New York to startle the nation, daze political clubs and flabbergast many public servants by demanding legislative enactment of a code for the guidance of officeholders having trouble with ethics these complex days.

a word from Harold D. Carroll . .
The occasion that prompts you to purchase a diamond is an important one . . . perhaps it's an engagement, an anniversary, important Christmas gift—or some other specially happy moment. Over the years, we've had the good fortune of helping many people select diamonds for these long to be remembered events. Because of this experience, many of our friends have asked us how to choose a diamond. So—we've published a booklet that outlines what the American Gem Society, Gemological Institute of America believes are important factors that influence the value of these precious gems.
If you haven't received your copy of this helpful booklet—we sincerely hope you will stop by and ask for one. Of course, there's no obligation.

Truck Owners Ask Ike's Help In Tax Dispute

Urge Taft-Hartley Act Be Used To Stave Off Threatened Walkout

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A group of truck owner-operators wants President Eisenhower to use the Taft-Hartley Act to stave off a threatened strike of the AFL Teamsters Union.

The United Truck Owners of America, Inc. made the request yesterday in an 850-word telegram. The organization is composed of drivers who own their own truck and do not wish to be represented by the teamsters union.

In Washington, the White House said the telegram had been received, but had no comment.

Truckers in Ohio and 11 other states are threatening to strike Jan. 15 unless trucking firms agree to pay Ohio's new axle-mile tax. The companies say the driver-operators should pay it since they own the rigs they operate.

B. B. Nicholson, president of the Y. T. O., said in the telegram that "the free enterprise system is at stake, since more than 70 per cent of all motor transportation in interstate commerce is handled by owner-operators' equipment."

The health and welfare of the nation is endangered by the strike "which we have every reason to believe will be carried out unless you intervene," Nicholson added.

James R. Hoffa of Detroit, international vice president of the Teamsters Union, is scheduled to meet in Chicago tomorrow and Friday with Dave Beck, president of the union. They are to make a final decision on whether the union will go through with the strike.

Mrs. Roosevelt To Speak Friday At OWU Lecture-Movie Series

MRS. ROOSEVELT
To Speak Friday

DELAWARE — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, former United States member of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights and American delegate to the U. N. General Assembly, will speak on the Ohio Wesleyan Lecture-Movie Series at 8:15 p.m. Friday in Gray Chapel.

The widow of the war President will base her talk on the topic, "Is America Facing World Leadership? Her address will contain highlights from her recent journey to India and from the book based on her observations during that trip.

After the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt maintained many of her interests and on Dec. 19, 1945, she was appointed by President Truman to the U. S. delegation to the U. N. General Assembly. The following year she was unanimously elected chairman of the Commission on Human Rights of UNESCO.

In addition to writing "My Day" since 1941, she has conducted McCall's question-and-answer page, "If You Ask Me," and she has written articles for many other magazines. In these articles she has reported to Americans on their servicemen overseas, discussed women in politics and public life, advocated higher wages and greater prestige for teachers and discussed problems of labor, child welfare, youth and economics.

Mrs. Rooevelt has written three books for children, "When You Grow Up to Vote," "A Trip to Washington with Bobby and Betty," and "Christmas, A Story."

"This Is My Story" was published in 1937, "Hunting Big Game in the Eighties," a volume of her father's letters, in 1932, her newspaper columns were collected into "My Days" in 1938 and her magazine pages into "If You Ask Me," in 1946.

She also has written "It's Up To The Women" and "The Moral Basis of Democracy."

Early in 1952, Mrs. Roosevelt made a tour of the Middle East visiting Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Israel, Pakistan and India. From India she returned to the U. S. via Indonesia, Burma, Singapore, Siam, the Philippines and Hawaii. A year later she toured Japan and revisited Europe.

Following her resignation as American delegate to the U. N., in January, 1953, she became associated with the American Association for the United Nations as a volunteer worker in behalf of this organization's aim to promote greater understanding of the U. N. and its program.

Persons may purchase tickets at the door of Gray Chapel for $1.50.

OWU Graduate Sets Up $12,000 Fellowship for Science Students

DELAWARE — A scientist who was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1907 has made a gift to his alma mater to help make the way easier for students following in his footsteps.

Dr. Ralph E. Hall, of Rehoboth Beach, Del., considered one of the world's foremost authorities on water conditioning, has given a fund of almost $12,000 to the University, the income from which will support The Ralph E. Hall Fellowship in Chemistry.

Dr. William A. Manuel, chairman of the Ohio Wesleyan chemistry department, said the Fellowship will be awarded annually to an advanced student majoring in chemistry. The receipients will be selected by the Department of Chemistry faculty in conference with the college's Scholarship Committee.

Dr. Hall was director of Hall Laboratories, Inc., in Pittsburgh, from its founding in 1926 until his retirement from active technical direction in 1950. Since then he has continued to serve as consultant.

In 1953 he was the first recipient of the Pittsburgh Award given by the Pittsburgh Section of the American Chemical Society.

From 1917 to 1920, Dr. Hall was physical chemist with the Geophysical Laboratory of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, with time out in 1918 to serve as captain in chemical warfare service.

In 1920 he directed physio-chemical research at Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., and in 1921 he joined the research staff of Koppers Co. and was Industrial Fellow of Mellon Institute for a year.

In 1922 he went as physical chemist to the U. S. Bureau of Mines where his researches into boiler waters began, resulting in establishment, in 1926, of the laboratories bearing his name.

Dr. Hall has numerous patents to his credit and has written many technical papers and bulletins. He has the M. S. in Chemical Egngineering from Ohio State and the Ph. D. degree from the University of Chicago.

A trustee of Ohio Wesleyan, Dr. Hall has sent his three sons to the University: William G., class of '47; Robert M., class of '49, and Ralph E ., Jr., class of '54.

Dulles

hower administration has made a "basic decision" to build its security upon "massive retaliatory power" so that Russia may be deterred from attack. Dulles linked the announced withdrawal of two divisions from Korea to this decision, saying it will provide more security at less cost.

Allied strength—Until the six-nation European Defense Community is set up, the North Atlantic Alliance "and indeed future peace, are in jeopardy." Dulles, who calls EDC the only hope for easing French-German tensions, said Communist agents regard those tensions as a fuse for setting off "international arson."

Bids for Support

Bipartisanship in foreign policy —Dulles made a bid for Democratic support by saying that many policies of the Truman administration "were good." He mentioned Greek-Turkish aid, European economic aid, the breaking of the Russian blockade of Berlin, the fight against communism in Korea and the military buildup in Europe. But he said these were moves born of emergency which do not necessarily make "good permanent policies."

It seemed to be in this sense that he hailed the decision by the National Security Council, headed by President Eisenhower, to build a strategy upon the power of retaliation.

That means, he said, that the United States no longer must respond to every maneuver of the Soviets but that it has a governing direction for choices it will make in its own major interest.

No Magic Formula

He said the administration had not found a "magic formula" for preventing any communist victory, and he continued:

"What we do expect to insure is that any setbacks will have only temporary and local significance because they will leave unimpaired those free world assets which in the long run will prevail.

"If we can deter such aggression as would mean general war, and that is our confident resolve, then we can let time and fundamentals work for us."

Dulles will fly to Berlin at the end of next week, probably to confer with British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault before their meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

The Big Four sesions are scheduled to open Jan. 25.

The big issues are German reunification and a peace treaty for Austria. On the latter point, the State Department made public late yesterday a note to Austria pledging "every support" for Austrian independence. The note was a reply to one urging that the three Western Powers press Russia for a final settlement of the question.

spur would cost an additional $45,000 and that the 300-mile Cincinnati-Conneaut route plus a Toledo spur of undetermined length would boost the cost of a complete survey to $975,000.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche told the special session be assumed a second privately financed toll turnpike would be built in presenting a billion dollar, eight-year highway building program.

The Senate last night passed, 30-0, and sent to the House a bill setting up machinery for a 500-million-dollar bond issue approved by voters last November. Money from the bond issue and other highway revenues will finance the constructon program.

Follow Recommendation

The Senate also received and sent to its Finance Committee a bill appropriating more than 82 millions for road building under the bond program for the next 18 months. Lausche recommended that sum.

The House sent the Senate-approved bond machinery bill to its Public Affairs Committee in the hope of bringing it to a floor vote by Thursday.

Marion County Bank Fills Post

Edson Bush Named; Directors Re-Elected

Edson L. Bush was elected to fill the newly-created post of chairman of the board of the Marion County Bank when the directors held their annual meeting yesterday afternoon.

Russell C. Snare, former executive vice president, was elected to succeed Bush as president.

Other officers elected at yesterday's meeting were Henry A. True, vice president; W. K. Tobin, cashier; and George O. Barnhart, John Corwin and E. E. Schwaderer, assistant cashiers.

At an earlier meeting the bank's shareholders elected a board of directors comprised of Bush, Snare, True, John H. Clark, M. E. Burke, H. J. Barnhart, Harold J. Grigsby, James C. Woods, W. Hoover Brown, Ralph T. Lewis and Jay H. Maish.

All were re-elected from last year's board with the exception of Snare.

Grand Jurors To Reconsider Criminal Cases

Grand jurors, selected this morning in Common Pleas Court, are re-considering 15 criminal cases in which action taken by the December grand jury was nullified after discovery of a legal technicality.

Among the cases under consideration are charges of murder, manslaughter, embezzlement and larceny. The first degree murder charge has been filed against Bert Elswick, 37-year-old Marionite who has admitted strangling his 31-year-old wife, Violet, late on the night of Dec. 5 at a dump in Green Camp.

Grand jurors in December returned indictments against Elswick and 11 other individuals, and failed to indict two others.

Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith nullified the grand jury's actions after a defense attorney discovered that one of the jurors had served on another grand jury during the previous year, which is contrary to Ohio law.

The jury will continue hearings Thursday, and is expected to return its findings to the Court Friday morning.

balance in its defense forces every day.

Bricker Amendment

4. Said regarding the controversial Bricker amendment on treaty making powers, that he never would subscribe to any treaty or agreement which in anyway contravened the Constitution. He indicated, however, that he and Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), chief sponsor of the proposed constitutional amendment, have not been able to agree on a compromise.

5. Reported he had been advised by the Agriculture Department that it knows of no plan under consideration to sell butter and cottonseed oil to Russia. The whole matter of foreign trade is under study, the President said, and he will announce his recommendations later.

6. Declined again to give a breakdown on the 2,200 government workers he said previously had been separated from federal jobs for security reasons. He said he believes a great number of the 2,200 probably resigned even before they knew there was any derogatory information on their record.

On Communists

7. Said he advocated stripping convicted Communist conspirators of U.S. citizenship because he believes a conspirator is just as guilty as anyone who actually attempts to overthrow the government by force.

8. Told the newsmen no significance should be read into the fact that he did not renew his call this year, in the state of the union message, for revision of the McCarran-Walter immigration law. Eisenhower noted that he said in the message he would deal with some other matters in subsequent documents. He added that recommendations dealing with the immigration la have not yet been submitted to him by the government departments concerned.

9. Said there has been a lot of apprehension about the administration program to channel defense contracts into unemployment areas. Eisenhower said there particularly has been exaggeration along the line that entire contracts would go to such areas, rather than only 20 to 30 per cent of the total of individual contracts.

10. Smilingly confided that he believes women have the brains and the ability to occupy the presidency, but said he doubts whether they would like the job. That was a comment on former President Truman's remark that a woman might be president some day.

11. Repeated that he believes Alaska is not ready for statehood.

Juvenile

hundreds of students to drive to school, adding to the traffic load during peak hours.

UNDER THE second point of the policy, Ruzzo's court will release the names of juvenile traffic offenders to news reporters. This will be a departure from the former policy in which names of offenders were withheld on the belief that young people should not be stigmatized by calling attention to their carelessness. He said he felt that as the traffic toll climbs, people are faced with the realization that any person, regardless of age, assumes a responsibility when driving.

"When our young people begin to drive," he said, "they are assuming adult privileges and it is reasonable to conclude that they can and should be held to adult responsibility. Publicity is not an unreasonable burden upon this duty," he added.

The Judge said it is "unreasonable and unrealistic" to excuse juveniles on the premise that parents should be held entirely responsible for their actions.

"The child himself shares some of the responsibility and accountability for his own actions and conduct," he said.

DISCUSSING HIS third policy point, which deals with the commitment of guilty juveniles in aggravated cases, Judge Ruzzo said that teen-agers are sentenced to institutions for various forms of theft but few are sentenced for traffic violations.

"Which is the greater menace to society," he asked the group, "one who steals a bicycle or a few dollars or one who drives a high-powered automobile 80 or 90 miles per hour out E. Center St.?"

He said he was not condoning theft but was pointing out the danger to public safety which arises from a wreckless teen-age driver. He has been treated too long as a mere "prankster," Ruzzo added.

Noting that his three points were immediate action measures and would be effective only after concerted attack on the problem, Ruzzo said he hoped they would lead to long-range preventive action.

RUZZO REMINDED his listeners that young drivers should be the best; they are in the prime of life and enjoy good reactions and physical coordination. Despite this, he said, they often become the worst drivers for three reasons: attitude, training and age.

Speaking on attitude, Ruzzo said that if a juvenile is disrespectful to authority he probably will have a low respect for the rights of others while he is behind the wheel of a car. "Driving is not an entirely separate facet of life," he explained.

On training, Judge Ruzzo said that existing laws do not insure that a licensee has been properly trained to handle a vehicle and to understand the traffic regulations and the dangers of driving.

LISTING AGE as the third cause, Ruzzo said that present laws do not require sufficient age to guarantee a mature approach to driving. Under Ohio law licenses are issued to persons 16 or over and, in certain restricted cases, to those 14 or 15.

Saying that he felt the answer might be found in amendments to present statutes. Ruzzo read a proposed model legislation advocated by a national magazine.

This statute would prohibit the issuing of a driver's license to any person under 21 who had not completed a course in driver education approved by the licensing authority.

Ruzzo said that the proposed legislation, aimed at establishing driver training courses in high schools, has obvious advantages but also some disadvantages.

HE ENUMERATED an overlapping of the responsibilities of home and school, an overburdening on already over-crowded school curricula and the objection to dictating local school curriculum by state law.

Ruzzo concluded by making his own proposal for an amendment to the state law. He proposed that licenses be issued only to persons 18 or over, with elimination of the restricted category.

Visiting Rotarians at yesterday's meeting were Homer Chapek of Lakewood and Charlie Taylor of Pasadena. Guests were Kirk Moreland of near Marion and Norm Malley of Columbus.

Griffith said the building is a total loss and that none of the tools or equipment in the garage could be salvaged.

Only other run by city firemen was an inhalator call at the same time the fire started. It was to the residence of Ida May Schwartz of 718 Blaine Ave. She had difficulty breathing and firemen used the inhalator on her for 45 minutes successfully after which she was taken to City Hospital in a Hughes ambulance for further treatment.

Re-elected assistant cashiers are W. C. Haldeman, Ralph C. Hurr, Warren Cyders, Everett Coldwell, R. F. Langdon and Paul Naher.

At another meeting earlier yesterday afternoon, stockholders of the bank re-elected the same board of directors that had served during the past year.

Directors of the bank are White, Berry, Edward Ruth, J. J. Stafford, Howard F. Guthery., Frank S. McNeal, Philip E. Guthery, Frank M. Foster, Howard Swink, Joseph Halberstein, Carl E. Danner and Forest D. Loudenslager.

The Allied note to the Reds did not give any details of what conditions would be discussed.

tary of Labor Mitchell by surprise. He told newsmen he hadn't understood it was to work that way.

A well-informed administration source said the strike poll idea was put forward by Secretary of Commerce Weeks at the suggestion of management groups and written into the Smith bill at the White House. Weeks could not be reached for comment.

AFL and CIO leaders denounced the plan as a "strike-breaking device." Sen. Murray (D-Mont), senior Democrat on the labor committee, referred to it in similar terms. So did other Democrats.

But perhaps the most telling opposition came from Sen. Ives (R-NY), second ranking Republican on the closely divided labor committee which numbers seven Republicans and six Democrats.

Doesn't Like Idea

Ives told newsmen he does not like the President's strike vote idea—whether the balloting is to be held before or after a walkout gets underway. He said such a poll—which would be supervised by the National Labor Relations Board—is actually an effort to question union leadership.

The New Yorker also said he doubted "the rank and file would reverse themselves" in a government-sponsored poll after first agreeing to strike in a union-held vote.

The furor over the strike poll proposal apparently made Smith relent from his stated opposition to more committee hearings on Taft-Hartley revision.

FRANCIS McDANIEL
Heads Humane Group

Francis McDaniel Elected President Of Humane Society

Francis McDaniel was re-elected president of the board of directors of the Marion County Humane Society at the group's annual board meeting Monday evening in Hotel Harding.

The new president, who resides at 489 Silver St., operates the McDaniel Grocery on Silver St. and is a member of the Marion Home Rule Charter Commission.

W. D. Scranton of near Marion was re-elected vice president and Robert Cass was elected treasurer, succeeding Miss Vivian Hall who had completed two terms in the office.

Annual report of Frank W. Phillips, attorney for the society, indicated that $102,306.89 was received in support payments during the past year. The society received $90,621.13 in 1951 while in 1941, the figure was $20,570.78.

Other members of the board of directors of the society are Clyde Ullom, A. H. Marks, William Warner, Harold Clark, Norman Fogt, Dr. J. F. Kantzer and Mrs. Francis Clark.

cently by some national political observers as possible presidential timber. But Lausche steadfastly has maintained he will not be a candidate.

Rhodes, the energetic son of a Jackson County coal miner, was elected state auditor in November 1952 when he unseated Democrat Joseph T. Ferguson after a 16-year tenure. He started his political career as a board of education member in Columbus. He then served successively as city auditor and mayor.

Rhodes made one previous pass at the Republican gubernatorial nomination in 1950 in a three-way race and lost, although he racked up 30 per cent of the total vote in the process.

Early last year, he said privately he had no intention of seeking the governor's office in 1954. But, in recent weeks when uncertainty marked the state GOP picture, he let it be known he would make the race if there was a grass-roots insistence that he run.

This hint of his interest in the race came after several newspapers and individuals urged him to run. Other endorsements followed his indication he could be prevailed upon to seek the nomination.

Parity is a price, calculated by formula, said by law to give farmers a fair return on their products in relation to prices of things they buy. The government, through loans and other devices, now supports prices of basic crops at 90 per cent of parity.

Mundt Differs

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said he doesn't think the farmers would get 100 per cent parity income out of flexible supports such as Eisenhower outlined in his new farm program Monday.

Sen. Young (R-ND) said in a separate interview that McCarthy's idea was getting some backing among other Republicans.

DiSalle Backs Burke in U.S. Senate Race

Toledoan Admits His Disappointment Over Action by Governor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michael V. DiSalle today stood in full support behind the election ambitions of Sen. Burke (D—Ohio).

But the former price administrator and ex-mayor of Toledo admitted frankly to reporters at a party Burke gave last night:

"I was very disappointed that I was not appointed to the Senate myself."

Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche appointed Burke to the Senate to fill the vacancy left by the death of Sen. Taft (R—Ohio).

Burke wants to run for the two years remaining of Taft's term next November. It had been felt that DiSalle might oppose Burke in the May Democratic primary.

But DiSalle told reporters: "I will do whatever Tom (Burke) wants me to do to get him elected. I think this is a Democratic year in Ohio and I'm sure Burke will win."

For his part, Burke told reporters he had no intention of campaigning in every one of Ohio's 88 counties for next fall's election, as Taft did in his last campaign. He said he would concentrate in Ohio's rural areas, where he is less known, but would open heavy campaigning only after the senate adjourns this spring or summer.

Asked what he thought Gov. Lausche would do in his campaign, Burke replied:

"I wish I knew. I know he'll help me, but whether we will campaign together I don't know at this point."

Burke also said for the first time that he would not support the amendment to the constitution proposed by his Republican colleague, Sen. Bricker of Ohio, to reduce the President's treaty making powers. He said he would support the substitute amendment proposed by Senate Majority Leader Knowland of California.

DiSalle was asked if he was going to tell Burke where he made his "mistakes" in his unsuccessful campaign against Sen. Bricker last fall.

"I never made any mistakes," said DiSalle. "It was just the wrong year to run. I think this is the right year.

"I remember after the last election somebody said to me: 'One of these years we'll have a Democratic landslide and Lausche will get licked.' "

Four Drivers Fined In Municipal Court

Four motorists charged with traffic violations by city police were fined a total of $145 and costs when they pleaded guilty in Municipal Court this morning.

Largest fine went to Henry Lee Daugherty, 36, of 693 Sugar St. charged with having physical control of a motor vehicle while intoxicated. He was fined $100 and costs. He previously had pleaded not guilty when he appeared in court the day after his arrest Jan. 8.

The other three were each fined $15 and costs on lesser charges. They were Dallas L. Plotner, 47, of 275 E. Farming St., insufficient brakes on car; Paul E. Mallett, of Newark, passing in no-passing zone; and Carl L. Bently of near Marion, speeding.

TV or Not TV

By George Sokolsky

Some months ago, I wrote of a peculiar questionnaire about the private lives of school children which a parent had sent to me.

SOKOLSKY

Subsequently I received a letter from a Brooklyn school teacher who attacked me as "an average parent."

Parents have been around a long time, much longer than school teachers. Most parents feel that they do the best they can for their children.

This teacher is very class-conscious. He wrote:

"You are a practicing journalist and I am a practicing teacher. You can tell me plenty about your trade; I can tell you something about education. Have you ever visited the school during school week? Have you ever conferred with the teachers of your children or haven't you been sufficiently interested?"

I would not call myself a practicing journalist, the term being foreign to my trade. We do not practice on anybody or anything. We are workers in a trade which requires some little skill and a great deal of patience.

Maybe, it takes more skill to be a teacher; I would not know, not having taught school since 33 years ago when I tried my hand at it for a spell.

I PRESUME that each trade regards its own as the most difficult, as when physicians look down their noses at dentists, or when musicians always say that everybody else is no good.

In our business, it is dificult to go in much for self - praise as no cover-up for laziness and ignorance is available, as editors, usually tough creatures, will tear your eyes out on the least provocation.

The public can be ungenerous to a writer whose work stands nude and cold to be read or rejected, to be praised or cursed.

Teachers have it much easier, I should imagine, because they can always blame "the system."

This school teacher goes further:

" 'They (he quotes me) want to know whether the family owns a radio or television.' You bet. That shows how progressive the schools are. We can slant our lessons by correlating what the child hears on radio or sees on television."

I thought that we sent our children to school to learn how to read and write, how to do arithmetic, algebra, trigonometry, Latin, French, history and similar subjects.

SURELY I DO not send them to school to gain knowledge from the "Cisco Kid," or "Martin Kane, Private Eye," or "Crime Busters' or from those sexy dames, who if they have no abnormal bosoms, buy them for exhibition purposes. Imagine slanting lessons to the tune of Milton Berle or Sid Caesar!

This teacher says:

"Radio and television determine our assignments for homework, both as to time and content. The assignment is richer and fuller when it is related to radio and television . . ."

I hope no teachers who are to inspire my children slant the lessons and determine "our assignments for homework," to the tune of a bebop orchestra.

I do not deny that good programs do appear, but precisely what do they have to do with school homework?

What, for instance, appears on radio or television that will help a child pass the college entrance examinations?

OBVIOUSLY something is wrong with the educational process when one encounters teen - agers, in high school, who know nothing about their own country and its government.

Something is wrong when so many of our troops in the recent war did so badly in their literacy and intelligence tests.

Perhaps we should give examinations in the doings of 'Wild Bill Hickok" and 'Hopalong Cassidy" to discover an aptitude for engineering.

Perhaps a parent might ask the high school boy a few questions in American history or in civics. Ask him how a president is elected and how the Constitution is amended.

I recently heard a story about a well - known figure who told an Hawaiian that the best way for Hawaii to get statehood is to elect two Republican senators and then they could get statehood. Imagine that!

Maybe the radio and television programs were not adequately slanted for this man when he was younger.

It would seem to me that the time is coming for the parents to free the school from "practicing teachers."

Galion Council Okays Record Budget in 1954

GALION — Galion's operating appropriation for 1954 which was passed at an adjourned meeting of Council Tuesday night reached an all-time high of $1,356,980.77

The appropriation ordinance last year set a record at $1,295,046.71, which was $61,934.06 lower than this year's appropriation.

It was explained by City Auditor Floyd Frye that last year's appropriation had not allowed for salary increases, which were made later in the year by passage of a supplemental ordinance. The appropriation this year also provides for spending $15,000 more on streets.

There were increases in nearly every department appropriation with the exception of decreases in the general fund, sanitary sewer and general bond retirement funds.

Departments where larger increases were noted were the safety fund, $106,165 appropriation; hospital fund, $282,000, an increase of $15,000; and the total general fund an increase of $14,751 which sets it at $195,630.

By unanimous vote of Council, William Amick was elected vice president. Appointments recently announced by Mayor Francis Schalip were approved by vote of Council. Council accepted and placed on file the statement from the Crawford County auditor of the estimate amount, $946.49 to be withheld by the auditor to pay for the city's election in November.

The mayor was given approval by Council to proceed with the appointment of a superintendent of Galion City Hospital at a salary not to exceed $5,550 per year.

Councilmen and city officials gave personal donations to the March of Dimes following the meeting.

Forewarning

By Victor Riesel

Just 10 days before someone in Washington discovered that someone else had made off with $160,000 in crisp new $20 bills, the chief of the Federal Bureau of Printing and Engraving, which turns out this thing called, money, ignored a specific warning that the bureau was wide open for such thefts.

RIESEL

This warning was thrown at them for the third time on Dec. 2, just before the holidays when security was even more lax than usual.

The money was stolen over the New Year's week-end, just a matter of hours before still another warning from the same source was being prepared by James A. Campbell, president of the AFL's Government Employes' Union Floyd Swiggett, a union vice-president, has revealed that his followers working in the mint have made repeated protests to the engraving bureau officials over "loose security methods. FBI agents are members of this union, incidentally, including some of J. Edgar Hoover's top aides, who actually carry union cards.

NOW ANOTHER AFL union warns of even greater theft from the U.S. Treasury. From the little known International Plate-Printers, Die Stampers and Engravers Union of North America comes word that a new Treasury Department policy may provide sunny times for expert counterfeiters.

The Treasury plans to whip out savings bonds by offset, instead of the steel engraving methods. The Union charges that bonds counterfeited by the offset method can't be told from the genuine offset products of the Treasury Department.

The Treasury plans to switch from engraving to offset this week.

The union charges that the country could easily be flooded with fake bonds. This couldn't hurt the public since it will buy the genuine securities. It could dig into the Treasury, which minimizes the danger on the grounds that owners must identify themselves when cashing them. The authorities feel this will prevent counterfeit losses.

THERE IS NO longer any doubt in Atomic Energy Commission circles that the Soviets have now trained sufficiently skilled workers, and have the scientific knowledge, with which to build the H-bomb within two years and in sufficient quantity to knock out many of our major cities.

This is substantiated by some of the former U.S. attorneys who handled the atomic bomb spy cases.

The government officials are convinced that a spy ring, such as those which swiftly passed on A-bomb knowledge, exists in our themonuclear installations today.

That's why FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover sat by an open and direct telephone line between the Rosenberg death cell in Sing Sing and his office until the atomic spies actually started down "the last mile" to the electric chair.

At the Sing Sing end were two of his best counter-espionage agents, hoping the spies would talk and tell the truth in exchange for their lives. They didn't.

In fact, so prepared to die for the cause was one of the doomed that she literally reached down to help manacle her leg to the chair.

I have just been told by Myles Lane, the ex-prosecutor in that case, that the rings were so well informed they knew of our super-secret projects even before the Pentagon did.

WHEN ONE spy courier, thoroughly ashamed of having betrayed his country, broke down and revealed every detail he knew, he told Lane that the ring had the secret of a sky-platform which could sit thousands of miles above the earth and rain death down on cities.

Lane didn't believe such a fantastic project was possible. He went to the Pentagon, and the high staff there, which would not have lied to him, said it knew nothing of such a project.

The courier then told him to go to General Electric, Lane did.

The company told the prosecutor confidentially that it could build such a sky platform if given the vast amounts of money necessary.

That's why the FBI agents are now working nights and week-ends, without additional pay. So strenuous is their schedule, so uncertain is their free time, that they've had to give up their prize-winning basketball team in a New York industrial league. They just can't keep playing dates.

VIRTUALLY unnoticed by the nation is a heartbreaking tug-of-war which will make one of 1954's big stories.

Hundreds of large companies, faced with the need to cut back expenses as we cut back to peacetime "normalcy," are dispersing from the industrialized north to southern states, Texas, Missouri, Kansas and areas "west of the Mississippi." Westinghouse for example, has announced plans to shift its jet engine division from Lester, Pa., to Kansas City. Philadelphia's Mayor Clark is seeking means of saving over 2,000 jobs in that city.

In all parts of the country, scores of unions are planning to strike and spend millions if necessary to stop such movements.

So important is this to labor that AFL president George Meany will make an unprecedented trip to Norwalk, Conn., this week to hand out the millionth dollar in strike relief to an AFL hat union member one of the strikers against the Hat Corp. of America.

The seven-months-long strike, led by union president Alex Rose, is aimed at stopping the company from moving during the lifetime of the union contract.

Matter of Forms

By Laura Hobson

"Endorsement must agree in every respect with payee's name shown on the face of this draft."

With minor variations, this little legend appears on most pay checks, money orders, and business payments, and it's obvious that any discrepancy between the name (names) on the face of the check and the signature (signatures) on the back would snafu finance.

But recently the Travelers Insurance Co. sent me a check for $12.00 on an accident policy I carry for my twelve-year-old, and I paused for a moment's study about how to endorse it.

ON ITS FACE, it said in print, "At sight pay to the order of" and in typing, "Laura Z. Hobson, mother, for and in behalf of Christopher Hobson, a minor."

How would you endorse that, to have it "agree in every respect with payees name (names) shown on the face of this draft?"

Well, sir, after letting it hang around a couple of days, I finally reached my decision, signed it "Laura Z. Hobson" and took it to my bank, the Hanover.

At sight the bank handed over a ten and two ones.

Days flew, and so did the ten and two ones. Then, from my bank, came an envelope containing four official papers stapled together.

Each one was tinted a different color — a charming effect.

THE TOP ONE, pale blue, announced, "We charge your account $12."

And the reason given column said, "Endorse exactly as drawn."

Directly under it was a bright orange slip, headed, "Guaranty Trust Co. of N. Y." This had a list of reasons for returning checks to other banks, and they fascinated me so much that I temporarily ignored the one meant for me.

Account attached, account closed, bank stamp missing, two witnesses to mark and their address — these were some of them. I did pause to wonder why that last one didn't read, "Two witnesses to mark and their addresses," but perhaps the Guaranty Trust is too busy to ponder the scandalous implications of that single address for two witnesses.

BLUSHING, I hurried to the line marked for my case. With 3 separate reasons listed, I did hope mine would be specific, but it only said, "See accompanhing slip on check." That led me to the third member of the stapled four, this a skimpy white one, from the Travelers Insurance Co. itself. So skimpy that only 15 possible reasons were included, which made it easy to go straight to a black "x" next to "Endorse exactly as drawn."

No. 4 of the documents was a delicate grey or beige — perhaps that marriage of the two known to fashion experts as greige, and lo and behold it was the original $12.00 check from the Traveler's Co., payable through the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

THE SECOND time around, I did what I was told, and now the back of check No. 137628 not only has my first endorsement, but an additional five lines right under it:

Laura Z. Hobson
mother, for & in behalf of Christopher Hobson,
a minor.

All that remains is to mail it back to the Hanover, who will then credit the $12 back to my account, mail me another notice and return the four stapled papers to the Guaranty Trust, who will then mail the original check back to the Traveler's, who will then mark the case closed.

Is it any wonder that insurance rates are high?

Warned FDR of Jap Move in '39

Red Gold Exports Recall Baruch Note

KINGSTON, S. C. (NANA)—Recalling Bernard M. Baruch in March 1945 stated that "No matter what the government did or did not do that there would be five to seven years of more work than minds or hands could do," North American Newspaper Alliance requested an opinion from him on the talk of a recession. Mr. Baruch said he did not have sufficient factual information to make a statement at this time.

Continuing, however, he discussed the Russian export of gold as follows:

"A thing that will come up very soon, and which is already deeply affecting us, is the Russian export of gold. What does this mean? I was moved to look up a memorandum I sent to Franklin D. Roosevelt in July 1939, apropos of the same subject when Japan was exporting gold. What should be done in the present circumstances, I am not prepared to say because I do not know how far any negotiations of any kind with the Kremlin have gone on, nor how much pressure our so-called Allies are putting upon us.

"If we had acted in 1939 Japan would have been unable to prepare for Pearl Harbor. Are we worshipping the golden calf?"

The full text of Mr. Baruch's 1939 memorandum to President Roosevelt follows:

"July 31, 1939

"With the exception of the United States every important country has been marshaling its forces for war or conquest. The effect of this upon us has become more apparent every day by forcing us to take measures to hold our position or to protect our interests. The structure of the totalitarian states, if not upheld, has certainly been strengthened by the United States through its purchases of gold. Upon this gold price is based the price of everything in the world. Why should not the United States take the position that it will buy gold only from those nations with whom we have fair cooperative relations?

"Japan, Italy, and Germany are actively engaged in unfair economic activities affecting our trade and commerce. Upon some of these we have already had to take some action. If the United States should refuse to buy Japanese gold, the Japanese economy would be seriously affected. If this position were taken with Germany and Italy, the same would be true of those countries. In case such a course should be followed with Japan, the United States should not purchase gold from any country that buys gold from the Japanese. Such action would have a tendency to hurt the economy of those countries which are doing all they can to break down our position. It is also true that it would have a serious effect upon the economy of Russia if she were not cared for. It would stop a Nazi-Russian economic deal.

"This may be looked upon as a step toward war, but what have we now but war with every nation, even our own, feverishly preparing for defense or offense and raising all kinds of economic barriers? Wars are fought on three fronts—on the battle front, on the home front, and on the neutral front.

"Another thing that ought to be done immediately is to find ou our exact naval and military position. We should have a conspec tus of our activities, showing what has been ordered and when deliveries will take place. Also a careful survey should be made as to whether we have a well-rounded program.

"We should have more information than I believe exists today about conditions in other countries. What is the position of England and France regarding their armaments and their stored reserves? Also the position of Germany and Italy and Japan? Our chief of staff was once asked whether Germany could be surrounded economically and destroyed, and he said, 'No.' A question like that to the chief of staff would be like asking me how many divisions it would take to conquer some nation. I would not know the answer to the military problem, and I do not feel that he would know the answer to the economic poblem.

Studies should be made now so that active steps can be taken when necessary. Economic action now, although it might involve some losses, would probably result in saving much more treasure in the end, and infinitely more in blood and in injury and suffering to our soldiers, sailors, and civilians."

Western Peace Bid Denounced By Red Writer

Security Guarantee To Russia Branded As Propaganda Move

MOSCOW (AP)—A writer in Pravda today denounced Western offers of a guarantee of the Soviet Union's security as an attempt "to confuse the public in Western Europe."

The writer, E. Alexandrov, declared in an article in the Communist party newspaper that the security guarantee offer was raised only in the hope of hastening the ratification of the European Defense Community.

The Russian commentator described EDC itself as "an instrument of aggression against the U. S. S. R." and asserted:

"Projects for a so-called 'new system of security' which are now being offered, completely ignore the lessons learned at the price of two world wars.

"They not only fail to provide measures aimed at the formation of a single democratic, peace-loving and independent Germany but, on the contrary, stem from the principle of dividing Germany and drawing off its Western provinces into the so-called EDC.

"One only has to permit the restoration of the vengeful Wehrmacht (German army) and war will again be at Europe's door."

The Pravda writer was evidently referrring to statements made by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in a British Broadcasting Corp. talk Sunday. Eden said the West would not jettison its EDC and NATO security arrangements but will consider giving new guarantees of security to the Soviet Union.

Previously Washington dispatches said the United States is prepared to join Britain and France in offering security guarantees to Russia—provided these are part of a package solution of the problems of German unification and a German peace treaty.

Good Turns Exchanged

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Last month, with the mercury near zero night watchman Sam Clyburn slipped from a river barge and fell into the icy Ohio River. A fellow watchman, John Forey, fished him out.

Yesterday, with the temperature again near zero. Forey fell from a derrick boat. Clyburn fished him out.

Meat Loaf Ring Is Inexpensive and Tasty

After the fancy holiday meals, a wholesome, substantial meal of meat loaf is an appetite-pleaser.

This recipe makes a big, inexpensive loaf which will be appreciated by the head of the house. You can stretch a pound and a half of ground meat into eight generous servings. Fill the meat loaf ring with whole kernel corn for a meal-in-adish.

Use:

2 eggs
¾ cup condensed cream of tomato soup
¼ cup water
1 cup bite-size shredded wheat biscuits
1¼ pounds ground beef
¼ pound pork sausage
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons finely cut onion

Break eggs into 6-cup bowl. Beat slightly with fork. Add tomato soup and water. Mix well. Add shredded wheat biscuits. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes. Heat oven to slow (300). Grease 8-cup ring mold.

When shredded wheat biscuit mixture has stood 15 to 20 minutes, add meat, salt, and onion. Mix well. Pack into greased ring mold. Pour 2 tablespoons water over top of meat mixture. Bake on rack slightly below center 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Serve with a tomato sauce made by heating remainder of can of condensed tomato soup with 2 tablespoons drippings from the meat. Makes 8 servings.

Firemen Form Human Ladder To Rescue Boy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Four city firemen formed a human ladder yesterday to rescue a young boy who was being swept along an underground sewer drain.

Eight - year - old Albert Salvia fell 20 feet down a manhole into the icy water, which was about three feet deep. The firemen, one on top of the other and lashed together by ropes, retrieved the struggling youngster and raised him to safety as hundreds of cheering spectators gathered around the scene.

Shovel Foremen Meet

Entertainment was by the Eagles Quartet at a meeting of the Marion Power Shovel Co. Foremens Club Saturday night at Hotel Harding.

Psychiatric Report Readied on Noted TV Commentator

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The U. S. attorney for the eastern Pennsylvania district says he expects to have a report ready in about a week on a psychiatric examination for Dr. Roy K. Marshall, nationally known scientist and radio and television commentator, under indictment here for allegedly sending obscene letters through the mails.

The indictment, handed down last Nov. 18, was disclosed here yesterday in U. S. District Court by Federal Judge J. Cullen Ganey. He said Marshall was indicted for sending the letters to five teenage girls who wrote him seeking scientific advice. The judge said the indictment was impounded at the request of U. S. Atty. W. Wilson White.

White said he ordered the impoundment because he "had a suspicion he (Marshall) might be a sick man." He said he ordered a psychiatric examination.

Details of the charges and names of the girls involved were not disclosed.

Here comes a Capitalist!

IT COULD BE the president of a big corporation...or the president of a bank . . . or the President of the U.S.A. But it isn't any of these. It's the worker who helped build the car he owns . . . who has stock in the company he works for . . . and cash in the bank for the future.

In America everyone who earns and saves is a capitalist — a stockholder in the free enterprise system that makes America's standard of living the highest in the world. Working and saving in this way produces lasting benefits for all.

So when someone calls you a capitalist, stick out your chest. He's saying that you are a member of the American productive team. Who wants to be anything else?

We invite you to bank your dollars here — where you have multiple safeguards for your money . . . where every account is important, regardless of its size.

Mitchell Says Ike Distorted Issues in Talk

Democratic Party Chairman Disputes President's Claims

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Stephen 3A. Mitchell, Democratic national chairman, charges President Eisenhower distorted several big economic issues in his State of the Nation message.

Speaking at a Democratic dinner in this western Pennsylvania community last night, Mitchell disputed statements by the President on accomplishments of his Republican administration in the areas of taxes, inflation and farm prices.

Mitchell said government statistics belie Eisenhower's claims that inflation has been halted, that skidding farm prices have been stopped an dthat substantial reductions in expenditures have made tax cuts financially feasible.

"Except for November, the cost of living went up in every single month since President Eisenhower took office," Mitchell declared. "The cost of living set new all-time records in June, July, August, September and October."

Mitchell said figures show farm prices dropped in every month but three since advent of the Republican administration, adding:

"Farmers are making two billion dollars a year less than when the Republicans took office."

A U. S. Treasury statement for Dec. 31, 1953, showed the government's budget deficit for the last six months amounted to slightly more than nine billion dollars, Mitchell stated. He added:

"For the same period a year ago, the budget deficit was also somewhat over nine billion dollars. Just about the same. Yet, last year Mr. Eisenhower said the deficit was leading this country to bankruptcy and ruin.

'This year with a deficit of the same size, he says tax reductions are financially feasible. He can't have it both ways.

DIES DELIVERING PAPERS

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — John B. Haynes, 72, died of a heart attack yesterday while delivering newspapers on his route.

Davis Hits Bricker Amendment as Bar To Peace Attempts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The proposed constitutional amendment of Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) on treaty-making powers was described today by John W. Davis, 1924 Democratic presidential nominee, as "an impediment to our obtaining and maintaining peace."

Davis, now a New York City lawyer, set forth his opposition in a telegram to Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn). Kefauver put it in the Congressional Record.

The proposed amendment would prevent treaties from becoming effective as domestic law in the absence of implementing legislation by Congress. It also would prevent treaties from being used to enlarge the legislative authority of Congress, requiring action by the individual states in some cases.

Theater To Install New Equipment for Cinemascope Films

Cinemascope equipment, new photographic and sound system which has been declared as the "most forward step in the history of motion pictures," will be installed soon in the Ohio Theater, Lee Kramer, manager, announced today.

Cost of equipment will be about $8,000, including special Cinemascope lenses and sound track and speakers.

With the installation of the new equipment and the new wide-angle screen which was put in the theater several weeks ago, the theater expects to show the picture "The Robe" sometime in February.

The Cinemascope process uses an anamorphic lens, the wide screen, stereophonic sound and a four track single film projection. The anamorphic lens restores to its original shape an image previously distorted in filming. Stereophonic sound uses a multiplicity of sound tracks which, when wired to speakers strategically placed in the theater, correspond to sound emanating from the actual person or persons, or locations on the screen, affording an extraordinarily natural and realistic effect.

The Ohio Theater is owned by Selected Theaters Inc. of Cleveland.

Galion Plant, Home Damaged by Fire

GALION — The run made Tuesday at 6:55 p.m., by the Galion fire department to a new home being built by Robert Meeks was the seventh call that firemen answered since Sunday morning.

The fire Tuesday night scorched plaster board and smoked the inside of the new home when a salamander ignited. The salamander was being used to dry out new plastering in the home.

Loss is expected to be heavy from a fire at 11:30 a.m., Tuesday, in a one-story plant here occupied by a department of the Perfection Steel Body Co. Heavy oil smoke and brisk winds hampered the fire fighters as they fought the blaze for several hours. The 40 by 80 foot brick building was gutted by the fire which was caused when an oil salamander exploded. The building is owned by the Dominion Electric Corp. of Mansfield, and is the old Sanitary Bakery structure, east of the New York Central Railroad crossing on E. Parson St. About 10 men work there in mounting front-end lifts on Perfection road building equipment.

Special Movie To Be Run at Union Service

Church Delegations Will Be Recognized At Meeting Tonight

"Asleep in Church" will be the sermon topic tonight at the union Spiritual Victory Crusade in progress at Epworth Methodist Church under auspices of the Marion County Ministerial Association. The evangelist is Rev. "Charlie" Taylor, and his brother, Rev. Laurie Taylor, presents special piano music each night of the campaign.

Delegations from the various churches co-operating in the meetings will be given recognition tonight. The special feature of the service will be colored moving pictures of Buenos Aires, Argentina, and Rio deJaneiro, Brazil, taken by the evangelist during his travels in South America, shown by special request. Rev. Laurie Taylor will play variations of old-time hymns.

At the service Tuesday night, the evangelist challenged people here to "ring God's doorbell and then trust Him to fill every need in life." He deplored the fact that like a police broadcast, monotonously, coldly, without fervor, and without earnestness.'" It is mere form with some people, he said, like a phonograph record, run mechanically. A person need not shout to make God hear, but prayer needs to be from the heart as well as from the lips. He stressed that "God has promised to fill every need but not every desire" of those who pray.

Moving pictures shown were of Zion Canyon and Bryce and Yellowstone national parks. Piano numbers by Rev. Laurie Taylor included "Londonderry Air," "Prelude in C Sharp Minor," Rachmaninoff, and variation of "Sweet Hour of Prayer," favorite hymn of Mrs. Charles Taylor Sr., mother of the Taylor Brothers. Prayer was by Rev. Harold Falor of Oakland EUB Church, president of the Marion County Ministerial Association.

It was announced that Thursday night will be Music Night which will include a concert of piano music by Rev. Laurie Taylor.

Prexies Break Slump With 67-59 Win Over Shelby

Harding Speedsters Shell Visitors in Last-Half Rally

By JOHN SHORT

Harding High School's Prexies broke a five-game losing streak last night with a 67-59 win over visiting Shelby. The win evened the Presidents' record at five wins and a like number of losses.

The Prexies shaking their recent slump came from a five-point deficit at the half. Once Coach Jim Lawler moved his squad into a pressing defense and the fast-breaking Ron Conroy, Doug Bibler and Donnie Smith picked up, there was little doubt of the outcome.

Hit 37 Per Cent

Harding cagers turned loose 87 shots from the field and connected for 30 field goals for a shooting average of 37 per cent. They added seven of 13 atempts from the foul line. Shelby was allowed 61 field goal attempts and hit on 20 to finish with a 32 per cent plus average. The Whippets managed to stay in the game from the foul line where they picked up 19 markers.

Bibler and Smith topped the Prexy scoring in total and in shooting averages. Bibler dropped in 18 points, all from the field, while Smith potted 17 in seven field goals and three foul shots. Bibler shot 19 times for a respectable 47 per cent mark while Smith hit the hoop on seven of 20 attempts. He was the first Harding cager this year to manage 20 shots in one game. Most of his points and shots were made from sets around the keyhole or on drive-ins from the side. Bob Hamor scored 10.

Tom Bucknam scored first when he dropped in a pair of foul shots but Dave Schnelker, who was on the sick list the day before the game, knotted the count on a tip-in. From there the teams battled it out in the first period with no one able to build a margin. The Quarter ended with the score tied at 17-all.

Wincel Ingram, who tied Bucknam for Shelby scoring laurels, began taking over early in the second quarter and after the Prexies knotted the score several times, he boosted his Whippet mates into a 26-21 bulge at the half.

Harding's hopes were dimmed early in the third stanza when Schnelker, the pivotman, fouled out. However, Max Kaelber and Hamor took over the task of rebounding for Harding and more than held their own with Bucknam and Nick Davies.

Midway in that period with the visitors holding a 34-29 advantage. Harding moved into its press and quickly cut the margin. The Shelby team appeared befuddled and was unable to work the ball past the closely-guarding Prexies. The score was reduced to 37-36 in a period of a minute and a half and Hamor put Harding in the lead 38-36 when he stole the ball and raced the length of the court for a layup. Max Kaelber made it 40-36 seconds later on a rebound shot. Harding held a 46-41 edge at the start of the last quarter.

Conroy hit on a set shot from the corner and Bibler and Smith dropped in a pair of drive ins to boost the lead and when Harding had raced to a 61-45 lead, Coach Charles Williams shifted his squad into a press of its own. The press used only during the final two minute failed to halt the Harding team and three additional goals were scored.

The game saw the officials tooting their whistles 29 times. Twenty of the violations were called against the Prexies. Schnelker was on the bench most of the second period after committing three in the first.

The Vice Presidents also were forced to come from behind in notching a 52-47 verdict in the preliminary game. Shelby led most of the way after gaining a 10-9 edge in the first period. The Junior Whippets were ahead 26-21 at the half and 37-35 at the end of the third stanza.

Lowell Carlisle pumped in 18 points to top the scoring. Paul Bender was next with nine. For Shelby Ted Jarrell was the only consistent scorer. He finished with 20.

Major League Players Begin Holdout Season

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Three major league hurlers who viewed the prowess of opposing hitters with a certain amount of contempt last year are eyeing 1954 contracts in the same fashion.

The Philadelphia Phillies had double-barreled contract problems today with both 23-game winner Robin Roberts and outfielder Richie Ashburn picking up where they left off as defensive standouts last season.

Both fielded their 1954 contracts on one hop yesterday and whipped them back into the Phillies' front office before owner Bob Carpenter could say "Sign on the dotted line."

"I have no intention of signing that contract," said Roberts.

"I'm asking quite a bit more," said Ashburn.

Carpenter said "I don't anticipate trouble in adjusting the difference."

The St. Louis Cardinals, on the other hand, wouldn't say whether they expected trouble from their 20 - game - winning left-hander Harvey Haddix, who likewise returned his unsigned contract.

"They offered me a small raise but not enough," said the 28-year-old hurler at his winter home in South Vienna, Ohio.

And Whitey Ford, who contributed 18 victories to the New York Yankees' pennant drive last year, rejected what he too called a small increase in pay, becoming the first Bronx holdout of 1954.

"I was offered a real small raise," said Ford, "and I'm absolutely giving it back to them." Ford had contract trouble last year too, and was a tardy arrival at the Yanks' training camp March 2.

But the 27 - year - old Roberts waxed the most indignant over his club's 1954 offer.

"I am thoroughly disappointed and disgusted," he said. "I'm not going to take a cut in salary even if it's a nickel."

Roberts, who won 23, lost 16 and pitched 347 innings last year, declared that "we're far apart." It is believed he drew around $40,000 last year.

Browns Hike Price Of Football Tickets

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns today increased ticket prices to their National Football League games so that the best reserve seats will bring $4 next season, compared with $3.60 last year.

The price boost is the first for the professional football club here since it was organized in 1946. The Browns' management said the hike was justified because ticket prices in Municipal Stadium here "have been the lowest in the league, even though the team's total pay roll annually is the highest in the circuit."

Attendance at the Browns' six home games last season averaged 45,778 a game—the best in five years.

Sycamore Notches 15th Straight Win

SYCAMORE — Sycamore stretched its winning streak to 15 last night, rolling to an easy 78-54 triumph over Attica.

Platoon Verdict Expected From NCAA Session

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—A verdict will be handed down today on college football's one-platoon system.

The best guess seems to be that the NCAA Football Rules Committee, which has been working over the limited substitution rule since Monday, will approve no major changes.

This is one jury, however, that defies prediction. Last winter in St. Petersburg, Fla., the committee shocked everybody—especially the coaches—by suddenly outlawing two-platoon football.

That action flew into the teeth of the coaches, who had expressed an overwhelming desire to keep the free substitution rule and to make it even more liberal.

Reaction from the coaching ranks was bitter. Some said the new rule would return college football to "the horse-and-buggy days." But during the 1953 season, the old-style "iron man" football excited the public's fancy. The fans loved it because they were spared the confusion of watching fresh players stream on and off the field. First-string players liked it because they saw more action. College administrators favored it because it cut down transportation expenses of the massive squads of the two-platoon era.

Even the coaches came around to it. In their meeting last week in Cincinnati, they voted 3-1 to keep the one-platoon plan. They asked only that it be liberalized so that a player could be taken out and sent back once each quarter.

After three days of mulling over the rules, the committee will announce its final decision today.

Besides reviewing the substitution rule, the committee heard extensive debate on such problems as the sucker shift, the faked injury and interference from the bench. There were indications that action would be taken on all these matters.

RELAXED HUNTING

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—While Al Aveldson's two sons ranged the Cuyamaca mountains on a deer hunt, Aveldson took it easy at their camp. A deer wandered into the camp and Aveldson shot it. He had it dressed and was relaxing by the fire when the sons returned—weary and empty-handed.

Charles Picked To Win Over Bob Satterfield

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Ezzard Charles fights Bob Satterfield in Chicago Stadium tonight as a 3-1 favorite, and the whole thing is summed up bluntly by Jake Mintz.

Charles, enthusiastic little co-manager said today: "The last time I seen Satterfield, Rex Layne was standing over his prone body. Don't tell me that bum got off the floor again . . . All we want to know is what's par on Satterfield's chin?"

Satterfield isn't that bad. He's probably one of the hardest punchers in the business today. Like Rocky Marciano, he can knock out a guy with one shot.

However, in return, the Chicago Negro has been an inconsistent winner at best. He has 42 victories, 25 by kayoes, but he has been chilled 9 times himself in 14 defeats.

The experts don't look for tonight's scheduled 10-rounder to go beyond six rounds. There is little betting despite the odds. Satterfield, at 182 pounds—about eight lighter than Charles—is expected to start flailing away at the opening bell and continue the pace with the hope of a connection.

Charles is figured to have too much experience to get hit on the target.

Only twice in his pro career, dating from 1940, has the 32-year-old former heavyweight champion been knocked out. The first kayo was by Lloyd Marshall in 1943, when he was fresh out of the Army and the other in July 1951 when he lost the heavyweight crown to Jersey Joe Walcott.

Charles, ranked the No. 1 heavyweight contender after his 10th-round TKO over Coley Wallace in San Francisco last month, is in line for a shot at Marciano's title in June.

The fight will be televised nationally (NBC) starting at 10 p.m EST.

Oklahoma A&M Begins Bid for National Rating

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP) — The Oklahoma A&M Cowboys today put in a strong bid to split the trio of teams which have dominated the top spots in the Associated Press weekly basketball polls.

Hank Iba's terors of the prairies have been running a weak fourth behind Kentucky, Duquesne and Indiana. But in their support now they can offer a season's record of 14 victories in 15 games with the one loss coming by a single point against Minnesota.

The Cowboys lasoed the 11th-ranking Jayhawks, last year's NCAA Western titlists, last night 54-50 for their 11th straight triumph and their 27th in a row on their home court.

After a poor start Kansas had won six straight, including the Big Seven's preseason tournament at Kansas City. The Jayhawks stayed even through the first 20 minutes but A&M spurted into a 41-32 lead in the third period and stayed well in front.

Bob Mattick, the Oklahomans' 6-11 center, held B. H. Born, the Kansas big boy, to six points and scored 14 himself. Frank Bigham led the third-period surge and ended high man with 15.

Ninth-ranking Duke was upset by Wake Forest 96189 but two other top 10 members won easily. Holy Cross, No. 6, outscored Boston College 33-12 in the final quarter in winning 83-57. George Washington, No. 7, overpowered Virginia Military 66-50. The Crusaders and Colonials each have won 11 without a defeat.

Dickie Hemric, playing his first full game since injuring his ankle Jan. 2, scored 34 points for Wake Forest as the Deacons handed Duke its first loss in Atlantic Conference play.

Niagara, No. 13, coasted over the University of Mexico 77-41, and Rice, No. 15, whipped Texas Christian 69-52 in the Southwest Conference.

Texas remained unbeaten in Southwest Conference play by edging Texas A&M 49-46. The Longhorns have won three.

Frank Selvy, the nation's highest scorer, hit for 40 points, well under his season's best, as his Furman team beat Clemson 87-69.

North Carolina State found South Carolina surprisingly tough before winning an Atlantic Conference game 68-62.

Madison Square Garden, where college basketball first went big time, drew its smallest regular season night double-header crowd in 20 years. Only 4,296 cash customers showed up to see LaSalle defeat Manhattan 69-61 and Georgetown win from New York University 75-67.

Arizona won its first Border Conference game in two starts, edging New Mexico A&M 67-65.

Doby, Indians Reach Contract Terms for 1954

CLEVELAND (AP) — Outfielder Larry Doby has agreed to 1954 salary terms, the Cleveland Indians' general manager, Hank Greenberg, said today. It will be Doby's seventh season with the Tribe.

"Larry seemed aware that 1953 had been a somewhat disappointing season for him and is very confident he will be of greater help during the coming season," Greenberg said. "After all, most players would be quite happy to have a season in which they hit 29 home runs and batted in 102 runs—but for Larry, it was not one of his best seasons."

Doby wound up the season with a .263 average, his lowest since he joined the Indians and 25 points under his lifetime average. His 121 strikeouts broke a 30 - year - old American League high mark.

Prospect Ties Morral for Lead in County Loop Play

Claridon Sinks Green Camp To Remain Single Game Out

Prospect deadlocked idle Morral for top spot in the Marion County League basketball race last night. Four sessions remain to be played.

Coach Bob Kelly's cagers achieved their sixth straight league victory by downing fourth-place Meeker 65-43. Morral, also with a 6-0 rating in loop play, absorbed a 62-60 licking at the hands of Elm Valley in a non-league match.

Meanwhile Claridon, close on Prospect's and Morral's heels with only a single loss in league play, notched its fifth league victory over Green Camp while LaRue nudged into third spot in the league standings by defeating Caledonia.

In other league activity, Waldo reached 86 points in drubbing last-place Martel to even its league slate at 3-3 and move into fourth spot in the league race and New Bloomington moved out of the league slums by edging Pleasant 59-57 for its second league triumph.

Full Slate Friday

The squads are now preparing for another county league session Friday which finds all three league contenders in action. Prospect is at LaRue, Martel at Morral, Claridon at Meeker, Caledonia at Waldo and New Bloomington at Green Camp.

Front-running Prospect had little trouble keeping its league slate clean with six victories. The boys from the southern part of the county led all the way in downing Meeker 65-43.

Ron Woods with 16, Bob Rodgers with 15 and Don Krawczyk with 13 led the winning attack. Ron Newland's 14 and Larry Sims' 13 were the best efforts for the visiting losers.

Prospect made a clean-sweep of the evening, winning the reserve tilt 44-23 and the junior high game 27-16. In the jayvee contest Bob Emery set the winning pace with 20 markers while Hudnell was high man for Meeker with six.

Hornets Lead

Claridon led all the way to win its fifth game in six league starts with a 76-59 victory over Green Camp.

Gene Jessie's 26 and Gail Castle's 22 paved the way for the Hornets, while Bob Bish pumped in 14 for Green Camp's best effort.

In a junior high preliminary Green Camp walked off the floor a 32-27 winner. Williams paced the winning attack with 10 points.

LaRue made its county league record read 4-2 by edging Caledonia 50-46 on the losers' court. The losers missed seven foul shots in the final two minutes of play.

LaRue jumped into a 13-4 bulge at the opening quarter, holding Caledonia to all its points on foul shots, but the losers came back to tie the score at 25-25 at halftime and both squads went into the final quarter tied at 38-38.

Caledonia, whose league record now stands at 2-5, missed only one of 12 foul shots during the first half as they rallied to deadlock the score.

Larry Hickman came in for high point honors as he hit for 14 to pace the LaRue attack. Dick Hosey added 13 while Gene Cooper dumped in eight. Gene Rice paced the Caledonia attack with 13 points and was followed by Irvin Hunt with 12 and Joe Green with 10.

Final tabulations on the effectiveness of both fives from the charity line showed Caledonia hitting on 18 of 29 attempts and LaRue on 14 of 23 trys.

Caledonia notched a 49-36 verdict in the preliminary contest with Ron Gist collecting 12 for the winning Caledonia reserves. Guthery had 12 for LaRue. Caledonia goes to Waldo for another county league encounter Friday.

Waldo Drubs Martel

Waldo rang up 86 points in drubbing hapless Martel 86-39 on the losers' floor.

The losers kept up with the pace set by Waldo for one quarter but that was all. Waldo led only 18-16 the first quarter but zoomed ahead 41-21 at halftime and continued to increase its margin.

Coach Ralph Weber cleared his bench in the win. It was Waldo's third league win as opposed to as many losses.

Don Yake supplied most of Waldo's scoring punch with 20 points. Bob Smith added 17 and Klingel chipped in with 13. Dale Linstedt was high for the losers with 12.

Waldo was also successful in the preliminary contest, the reserves notching a 45-26 win, their fifth in six county league starts.

New Bloomington edged Pleasant 59-57 in the final minute of play on its home floor for its second league victory of the season.

Bob Schwaderer's pair of foul shots with less than a minute to play which snapped a 57-57 tie proved to be the winning margin. Pleasant had missed four straight attempts from the charity line in the dying moments of the contest, two after the game was officially over.

The game was close all the way, with Pleasant taking a 11-9 edge at the first quarter and continuing to hold the advantage at intermission, 29-28. The winners were ahead at the three-quarter mark, 46-43.

David Johnson led the winners' attack, pumping in 20 points. Roger Boles supported him with 13. John Freshour and Jerry Gorby were the big guns for the losers. Freshour dumped in 18 points and Gorby notched 17.

Morral Whipped

Morral dropped a heart-breaker to Elm Valley 62-60 in a non-league encounter on the loser's court.

The lead continually changed hands throughout the first three periods, but going into the final quarter Morral had a five-point edge, 43-8.

By the time there was a minute left, Elm Valley had knotted the count at 60-all. Morral missed two attempted field goals, then with a scant second remaining, Eddie Thomas let go with a set shot that provided the margin of victory for the Aces.

Elm Valley kept close tabs on Morral's high-scorer John Craycraft, and when he left via the foul route mid-way through the fourth period, he had collected only a field goal and free throw for an unimpressive three points.

Walt Borchers set the pace for the Aces as he pumped in 22 points to lead the scoring. Junior Bell was high for Morral, collecting 17 points.

In the reserve contest Morral walked off with a 53-34 victory. John Forry spark-plugged the winners with 11 points, but Elm Valley's Stults was high-man of the game with 20.

Olson To Meet Kid Gavilan in Title Defense

CHICAGO (AP)—Kid Gavilan, convinced Chicago is hot for him, has won his first skirmish with Bobo Olson, the man he'll meet for the middleweight championship of the world April 2.

The Cuban Kid, current welterweight champ, persuaded Olson that the good old Yankee dollar can be had for the asking in Chicago Stadium where, it was announced yesterday, the match will be held.

Olson, middleweight titleholder by virtue of his recent victory over England's Randy Turpin, had been holding out for San Francisco, his adopted home town. He also had cast a speculative eye at New York's Madison Square Garden.

But Gavilan has enjoyed immense financial success in Chicago and International Boxing Club sources say he and his manager, Angel Lopez, convinced the Olson camp that holding this "natural" any place else would be sheer waste.

Terms call for Olson to receive 35 per cent of the gate, the Kid 25.

Tonight we have two heavyweights to meet in a 10 round brawl. Ezzard Charles, of Cincinnati and Bob Satterfield of Chicago. This will mark Charles' second appearance in less than a month . . . his last fight was a T.K.O. over Coley Wallace. Satterfield, a former lightheavy, has been making great strides in the heavyweight division. He recently registered a K.O. over Ray Augustus. A sharp hitting boxer, he is credited in boxing circles with the same K.O. power as Rocky Marciano . . . but our prediction is for Charles to win.

Plenty of Ice Cold Beer, Wine and Mixed Drinks to make your evening more enjoyable.

Death Notice Leads Relatives to Man Sought 33 Years

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Thirty-three years ago William S. Cook disappeared from his home at Ashland, Kan.

Yesterday relatives found him less than 150 miles from Ashland—but only in time to attend his funeral.

A story on his death in the Hutchinson News-Herald Sunday was noted by Mrs. Charles Wilson of Ashland. She consulted the family Bible and concluded he was her long-lost uncle. She and other relatives drove to Hutchinson yesterday, identified the body and attended the funeral.

Cook, 84, had been in a Hutchinson nursing home the last four years. Previously he had been working for several years as a ranch hand at Meade, within 40 miles of Ashland.

Wichita Woman Finds Husband Unexpectedly

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Worried when her husband failed to arrive home on time, Mrs. Louise E. Wilson, 31, set out to search for him yesterday in one of the family's two cars.

Her search ended with a bang. Her car became involved in a traffic accident with an automobile driven by Terance A. Wilson—her husband.

Traffic investigator Dale Hearon arrested Wilson. He was charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

ANNIE ROONEY — By Darrell McClure

MR. JULIUS, KIN YOU TELL ME HOW LONG IS A HONEYMOON?
NOW, THAT'S A GOOD QUESTION~ AND AS HARD TO ANSWER AS HOW HIGH IS UP AND HOW LONG IS FOREVER~
DARRELL McCLURE
THE WAY I FIGGER IT, THE AVERAGE HONEYMOON LASTS EITHER A FEW DAYS OR TWO LIFETIMES~
AW~ YOU'RE ONLY POOLIN' ME~
I'M NOT FOOLING YOU~ BUT I CAN GUESS THEY'LL BE BACK IN A FEW WEEKS~ AND THIS I KNOW~ THEIR HONEYMOON WILL STAY BRIGHT AND SHINY INDEFINITELY~
